

MICHIGAN VETERANS' BONUS PUSHED

SOLON PLANS
FILIBUSTER TO
WIPE OUT OPAMOVE TO SUSPEND
FOOD CONTROLS
FIZZLES

BY FRANCIS J. KELLS
Washington, June 26. (AP)—Senator O'Daniel (D-Tex.) threatened a filibuster today to prevent passage of the OPA extension bill before the present act dies Sunday midnight.

"I think it would be swell," he told a reporter, "if the American people could wake up Monday morning under the American form of government they've been out from under so long."

O'Daniel's desk was piled high with papers—apparently material for a long, long speech—and he said that "more will be arriving if it's necessary. I hope to get help if it's necessary."

Failure to enact the OPA bill before the deadline would cause all price and rent controls to lapse. They could be reinstated again when the measure finally is passed.

O'Daniel was delayed in gaining the floor by speeches of other senators, including a discussion of UNRRA by Senator Bridges (R-N.H.).

Recess until 11 a. m.
The senate then recessed, without a vote, until 11 a. m. tomorrow.

An earlier move by Senator Wherry (R-Nebr.) to restore to the OPA bill the provision removing price controls on meat, poultry and dairy products fizzled out, at least for the present.

President Pro Tempore McKellar (D-Tenn.) ruled that the move would be in order only if the senate rejects the compromise bill which the house passed yesterday.

Democratic Leader Barkley (Ky.) recommended the measure as "the best bill possible under the circumstances." It contains some provisions which Stabilization Director Chester Bowles called "booby traps" for price control. But it omits others which would have ended certain controls outright.

Bowles conferred with the president for half an hour during the afternoon but refused to say whether he had recommended a veto. Pressed for comment on the bill, he told reporters:

"My own feeling is what it has been. It would make things very difficult—they couldn't be harder." Tempers heated and tempers flared as the senate debated the controversial bill. The discussion brought these expressions:

Wherry—"Another year of price control will bring actual violence in this country."

Bridges—"We've reached a pretty low level when you have to violate a law in order to buy a loaf of bread."

Wife Steals Steaks, Ordered To Get Job
Detroit, June 26. (AP)—Mrs. Janet Mucha, 21, convicted of stealing two steaks in a crowded supermarket, was ordered today to get a job.

Recorder's Judge Arthur E. Gordon placed her on one year's probation on condition she seek employment after she testified her husband was ill and she had no money to pay for the steaks.

She was arrested June 18 with the two hard-to-get cuts of meat hidden in her purse.

Romantic Mother, 25,
Indicted At Detroit
For Gypping Suitors

Detroit, June 26. (AP)—A "care-free" mother of three small children, who indulged her fondness for "romance" and "fantasy" through the columns of a matrimonial journal, was indicted today by a federal grand jury.

Evelyn Katherine Stanton, who portrayed herself as shapely and smart in dress, was named in six counts charging use of the mails to defraud and smitten suitors who answered her advertisement in "Cupid's Columns" with proposals and money.

A Detroit postal inspector, Raymond C. Miller, said the 25-year-old woman, "not handsome but nice," obtained at least $2,000 from pensive males who answered her advertised yearning for a "home and true companionship."

She married two of the men following her original divorce, Miller said, but left each of them after a short time.

It was the second of these bridegrooms, Walter Wespahl of Bethel, Minn., who became suspicious, Miller said, after receiving a telegram that Miss Stanton had "died" suddenly and was being buried in Florida.

He imparted this news to police in Miss Stanton's home town of Clawson, Mich., who informed him his hazel-eyed bride was much alive.

Miss Stanton, employed as a carhop at a Detroit barbeque, began her postal career with the following advertisement in March, 1945, in a St. Paul matrimonial paper which the postal department said bore the name "Cupid's Columns":

"Very fond of music. Love poetry, fantasy, romance and all fun. Alert and on guard constantly. Desire home and true companionship. Have a beautiful form. Look very smart in anything I wear, from overalls to a misty formal. Age 24, five feet six, and 127 pounds. Brown hair, hazel eyes, blue eyes."

The council adjourned subject to call of the president after the veto of Soviet delegate Andrei A. Gromyko had blocked action on proposals offered by Australian delegate Herbert V. Evatt and the delegates had rejected subsequent suggestions of Gromyko.

This left the exact status unclear in the case based on Poland's charges that the Franco regime threatens world peace. Evatt said, however, that the issue was still on the agenda and that the "moral condemnation" of the Franco government still stands.

French delegate Alexandre Parodi, expressing regret over the snarled session, said "it seems to me that those who are fighting for the freedom of Spain have less grounds to congratulate themselves than Franco and his regime."

The chamber of deputies, after a stormy all night session, passed without amendment a bill authorizing a plebiscite on restoration of the Greek monarchy or continuation of the republic.

DEBT LIMIT REDUCED
Washington, June 26. (AP)—Legislation reducing the legal debt limit of the United States government from $300,000,000 to $275,000,000 was signed into law today by President Truman.

The debt, pyramided by the huge war costs, reached a record high early this year at almost $280,000,000. It since has been reduced to around $271,000,000, through payments from money surpluses in the treasury.

Crop conditions generally were reported good with small grains, hay and pastures making good progress because of the adequate supply of soil moisture.

Elsewhere citizens had not yet felt the impact of the farmer strike called by the Protest Association as the climax of dissatisfaction with the OPA and governmental agricultural policies.

Chairman H. H. Fackler said perhaps two days more would be needed to produce a noticeable food shortage.

He asserted that the strike, called at noon yesterday, "will not be called off."

Fackler's group received sympathy from the Ohio State Grange, although that organization with 101,000 members said it was not participating in the strike.

ILLEGAL DEALS
IN CARS BARED

Illinois And Kentucky
Towns Hub Of Huge
Used Auto Ring

Detroit, June 26. (AP)—A government witness testified today that two small Illinois and Kentucky towns were transformed into hubs of a $3,000,000 illegal used car ring.

One of 31 original defendants indicted by a federal grand jury, Thomas C. Doran, 35, a Muncy, Ky., tobacco warehouse owner, appeared for the government after a charge against him of conspiracy to violate the emergency price control act was dismissed.

Seven defendants are on trial on similar charges and 22 others have pleaded guilty and are awaiting sentences that may range up to two years in prison or $10,000 each.

Doran identified six of the seven men on trial as members of the ring, which employed "spotters" to buy cars in Detroit above ceiling prices.

He then described how dealers from southern and southwestern states attended auctions at Murray and Cairo, Ill., where they paid above ceiling prices for the same cars.

The OPA, labelling it "the nation's largest used car black market ring," alleges that 5,000 cars were siphoned from Detroit. The amount involved in the various transactions totalled $3,000,000 above the ceiling, the agency contends.

Assistant U. S. Attorney Joseph C. Murphy said he expects to call certain of the southern dealers when the trial resumes Thursday before an all-woman jury and Federal Judge Arthur A. Koscinski.

Shouting And Boos Greet Browder On Return To U. S. A.
New York, June 26. (AP)—Earl Browder, former head of the Communist party in the United States, arrived by airplane today from Russia where he was entertained by Soviet officials, and was booed by some persons in a crowd which gathered around him.

Pushing his way through the shouting people after his baggage had passed a customs inspection, Browder told newspapermen attempting to interview him:

"I am happy to see you boys again. There is no place like New York, and only New York could put on such a show as this."

Greek King Gets Chance To Return
Athens, June 26. (AP)—King George II of Greece, who has spent much of his life in exile, won a new chance today to return to the throne.

The chamber of deputies, after a stormy all night session, passed without amendment a bill authorizing a plebiscite on restoration of the Greek monarchy or continuation of the republic.

Corn Crop Behind, Needs More Warmth
Lansing, June 26. (AP)—Michigan's corn crop needs a continuation of adequate moisture and warm weather if it is to catch up with schedules, the federal-state crop reporting service said today.

Generally good stands of corn were reported, but the Service said that until a few days ago plant growth had been retarded by cool nights.

Crop conditions generally were reported good with small grains, hay and pastures making good progress because of the adequate supply of soil moisture.

Meat Gets Scarcer;
Butcher Shops Close

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The severest fresh meat shortage of modern times grew worse yesterday.

It hit the legitimate butcher shops, black market and restaurants.

The thin run of livestock to market, already at a record low, dropped off still further as the senate debated the fate of the OPA extension bill.

JURY CONVICTS
BESSEMER MAN

Father Of Two Found Guilty Of Killing
Tavern Waitress

Bessemer, Mich., June 26. (AP)—John Davey, Jr., 23-year-old father of two children, was convicted tonight of second degree murder in the April 6 slaying of Melva Stolp, 23, a tavern waitress.

A jury of nine men and three women deliberated three hours and 10 minutes before returning the verdict. Date for sentencing was not set.

Davey was the final defense witness, as he testified today that he did not understand implications of a signed statement, introduced in evidence by the state, in which Davey was quoted as admitting he struck the girl "three or four times."

The defendant declared, "I did not know half what it meant."

Davey testified that when he left Miss Stolp on the night of April 6 in some woods near the Ironwood Tavern at which she worked "she was all right."

The state contended that Davey tore the girl's clothing off, attacked her and left her in the woods where her body was found several weeks later. State's attorneys said that when evidence of rape is shown in such death cases, it becomes first degree murder.

Defense counsel said in his final summary that the state had not shown premeditation, intent, nor a motive and that medical testimony disproved the state's rape theory.

Two Survivors May Attend Reunion Of G. A. R. In Lansing
Lansing, June 26. (AP)—At least two of the four Michigan survivors of the Grand Army of the Republic are expected to be present tomorrow when the Michigan encampment of the G. A. R. and its five allied organizations assemble for its 68th annual meeting.

Expected are Orlando Le Valley, 97, of Caro, state commander, and Martin A. Loop, 103, of Adrian. The other two survivors, Cyrus Perrigo, 101, of Vassar, and Oscar Mott, 100, of Benton Harbor, may be present.

More than 1,000 delegates are expected from the Women's Relief Corps, Ladies of the G. A. R., Daughters of Union Veterans and Sons of Union Veterans.

The gathering compares with the hey-day of the G. A. R. in Michigan when 21,418 veterans were enrolled in 441 posts.

Siam's King Slain By Assassin, Board Of Doctors Reports
Bangkok, June 26. (AP)—A board of 13 physicians was reliably reported today prepared to submit a report suggesting that youthful King Ananda Mahidol of Siam was the victim of an assassin.

The report, it was learned further, will be turned over to a special commission of inquiry investigating the strange circumstances of the monarch's death.

The 20-year-old king was found dead in his apartment June 9. The official report to the parliament the next day said he accidentally shot himself and that the bullet went through his forehead.

State Geologist Smith To Retire; Served 27 Years
Lansing, June 26. (AP)—R. A. Smith, for 27 years state geologist, will retire August 1, P. J. Hoffmaster, state conservation director, announced today.

Hoffmaster said that "two of the many highlights" of Smith's career were "spurring production of Michigan iron, copper, limestone and lesser minerals in two world war efforts and nurturing the rise of the state's oil and gas industry."

Smith became assistant state geologist in 1915, and in 1919 became the ninth state geologist since the survey was established in 1937.

Palestine Court Convicts 31 Jews Of Carrying Arms
Jerusalem, June 26. (AP)—Thirty-one shouting and defiant Jews of the militant underground Irgun Zvai Leumi organization were convicted today by the Palestine military court of carrying firearms and explosives.

"The Jewish national state now is in a state of war with Great Britain," said Benjamin Kaplan, one of the defendants, who was convicted also of shooting a British prisoner.

The captives had been surrounded and seized in a desert in south Palestine and contended they were prisoners of war and not subject to rules and jurisdiction of the court.

RETAIL COFFEE
PRICE GOING UP

Satisfactory Volume Of Exports Promised
By Brazil

Washington, June 26. (AP)—The government today announced a forthcoming coffee price increase of 3 to 4 cents a pound for the retail buyer.

It also announced an immediate increase of 2.075 cents a pound in the importers' ceiling price on green coffee.

In return for the price boost, Stabilization Director Chester Bowles said, the Brazilian government has given assurances of steps to maintain "a satisfactory volume of coffee exports to this country."

The present 3-cent-a-pound subsidy paid to importers of green coffee by the government will be continued, Bowles said, provided that the price control act now pending in Congress maintains the federal subsidy authority.

The actual amount of increase in retail prices for roasted coffee—as well as the changes in importers', exporters' and wholesalers' prices—will be announced within a week by OPA.

Until the retail price increase is ordered by formal announcement, no change in present store prices for coffee is authorized.

The program was announced by Bowles jointly with the state department, OPA, and the agricultural department.

Pole Sitter Quits, Leaves Sweetheart Alone Up 175 Feet
Cochecton, O., June 26. (AP)—Pining for her steeplejack sweetheart, 19-year-old Lonnie Cosmar carried the torch tonight at the top of a 175-foot flagpole.

Even from her elevated perch, however, Lonnie couldn't spot 34-year-old Marshall Jacobs, who took off last night after a lover's quarrel—abandoning his quest for a world sitting record which he began May 30.

"I'm ashamed of myself, I'm going to get out of town," Jacobs was quoted as telling his manager last night.

The manager said he hadn't heard from Jacobs and didn't know where he was, but Lonnie stoutly maintained the steeplejack would return in time for their wedding Sunday.

Weather Too Hot, Mail Man Dumps His Bag In Field
Detroit, June 26. (AP)—Edgar J. Vincent, 21, got a job as a letter carrier June 10.

Tuesday, as he plodded his route while the mercury soared into the high 80's, he decided the weather was too hot. So he went home, got his father's auto and drove to a field where he dumped his bag of 200 letters.

Nearly residents found them and postal inspectors soon got on Vincent's trail. He pleaded guilty in federal court today to a charge of detaining and retaining the United States mails. Sentence was deferred.

Kirsten Flagstad's Husband Dies; Faced Trial As Pro-Nazi
Oslo, Norway, June 26. (AP)—The chief of criminal police announced today the death Tuesday in a state hospital of Henry Johansen, husband of the Norwegian soprano Kirsten Flagstad.

Johansen, who presumably succumbed to pulmonary cancer, was awaiting trial on charges of economic collaboration with the Nazis. He denied at a hearing last year an accusation that he had made $1,500,000 from building barracks for the Nazis during the war.

TAX ON BEER
AND CIGARETS
TO PAY COSTSSENATORS PROPOSE TO PUT ISSUE
ON BALLOTS

Lansing, June 26. (AP)—A special committee of state senators and representatives today went all out for a Michigan veterans' bonus, to be financed by a three-cent cigarette tax and an additional $1.25 per barrel levy on beer.

They provided a $500 maximum and estimated total cost at $250,000,000 less interest and administrative costs. The committee asked Gov. Kelly to call the legislature into special session so the issue can be placed on the November general election ballot.

Must Vote Bonds
The three-cent tax on every package of cigarettes would raise approximately $15,000,000 annually and the beer excise would provide more than $5,000,000 additional, committee members said.

Revenue bonds to finance the bonus would have to be voted by the people as a constitutional amendment.

Three members of the committee flew to Gov. Kelly's vacation cottage near Roscommon to obtain an immediate answer to the question of calling a special session. Previously, the governor indicated he would not call an extraordinary meeting of the legislature to consider bonus legislation.

As passed by the committee, the bonus would be paid to all Michigan men and women who served between Sept. 16, 1940, and Dec. 31, 1945, at the rate of $10 for every month of domestic service and $15 for every month overseas with a maximum of $500. Dependents of those killed as a result of service would receive the $500 maximum payment, and no veteran would be eligible for the bonus unless he served a minimum of 60 days.

Liquor Levy Avoided
The committee debated the advisability of paying the bond issue by earmarking a portion of the sales tax, or by turning the 10 per cent tax on liquor—passed by the legislature to provide aid for cities, villages and school districts and which expires May 14, 1947—to the purpose.

Senator J. W. Fletcher of Centerville argued that if the liquor tax is taken away from the cities "they'll be after more of the sales tax," and pointed out that city aid backers are circulating petitions "to get one third."

Senator Higgins contended that "since the cities are asking for one-third of the sales tax they're not interested in the liquor tax" but the committee decided to avoid the liquor tax and city aid issues.

The name of Kim Sigler, Republican gubernatorial nominee, was brought into the debate by Rep. Harry J. Phillips of Port Huron, who said he had been talking to the G. O. P. candidate and "he told me he was heartily in favor of the committee's action and he would like to see the issue placed on the November ballot so the people of Michigan could dispose of it at the earliest possible date."

DEGNAN KIDNAP STORY DOUBTED

Discrepancies Found In Statement Of Man Held At Phoenix

Chicago, June 26. (AP)—Investigators in two cities today reported discrepancies in the statement of Richard Russell Thomas, 42 year old ex-convict held at Phoenix, Ariz., that he was the kidnaper-killer of six year old Suzanne Degnan, Chief of Detectives Walter Storms of Chicago said he was skeptical of the man's story, but State's Attorney William J. Touhy said there was enough evidence in Phoenix to "justify sending a man there."

At Phoenix, Sheriff Ernest W. Roach said a preliminary inquiry failed to show any similarity between Thomas' handwriting and that on a $20,000 ransom note left behind in the Degnan girl's bedroom when she was kidnapped from her bed Jan. 7.

Roach said that Thomas, who is in jail at Phoenix awaiting sentence on a sex charge, made a voluntary statement on the Degnan case but declined to sign it.

Roach said Thomas told him he kidnapped the girl in Chicago last Jan. 7, placed a gunnysack over her head, apparently suffocating her, and then dismembered her body with surgical tools stolen from Barnes hospital in St. Louis.

In St. Louis, Dr. F. R. Bradley, superintendent of Barnes hospital, said there was no record of Thomas being employed there or of any surgical tools being stolen.

Grand Jury System Endorsed By Police Chiefs Of Michigan

Tobinabe, Mich., June 26 (AP)—Endorsement of the present grand jury system in Michigan as an effective way of combating crime was voted today at the closing session of the 21st annual convention of the Michigan Association of Police Chiefs.

Little debate preceded adoption of the resolution in which the police officials expressed confidence in the one-man and multiple grand jury methods established under current laws.

In a second resolution, the chiefs asked the governor to designate some state agency to prepare a plan of operation for use in event of community disasters.

Sponsors said that the recent tornado in River Rouge had spurred them in their desire to get the plan into operation.

Captain Donald S. Leonard, acting State Police Commissioner and State Director of Civilian Defense outlined the plan which he said would involve no community expenses.

The police officials, in the final session, named the following to office: Lawrence C. Know, Wayne, to succeed Michael Ettenhoffer of Escanaba; John Hoffman, Highland Park, first vice president; Ben Phairas, St. Joseph, second vice president; Charles Rhodes of Pontiac, secretary-treasurer, succeeding state police commissioner Oscar G. Olander.

Nye Badly Beaten In North Dakota; Langer Does Better

Fargo, N. D., June 26 (AP)—J. B. Bridston tonight conceded the North Dakota Republican senatorial nomination to U. S. Senator William Langer as additional returns boosted Langer's lead over the Grand Forks insurance man.

Former Senator Gerald P. Nye appeared decisively beaten by U. S. Senator Milton R. Young (R-N. D.), on the basis of returns from about half the state's precincts in Tuesday's special short-term senate election. Nye, who served 19 years in the senate before his defeat in 1944, ran a poor third to Young, a farmer from Berlin, N. D., and P. W. Lanier, Jr., of Fargo, the Democratic candidate and a World War II veteran.

For Republican nomination for U. S. senator, 1,844 out of 2,256 precincts gave: Bridston 48,091; Langer 57,210.

For U. S. senator, short term, 1817 precincts gave: Young 66,461; Lanier 32,654; Johanson 1,881; Nye 18,203.

Comic Book Ideas Used In Robberies By Inkster Boys

Detroit, June 26 (AP)—Two 11-year-old boys who got their ideas from comic books are held by juvenile authorities for a series of burglaries of garages in suburban Inkster.

Police said there weren't any fingerprints because the boys, following the comic books closely, had taken the precaution of wearing their mother's gloves.

Police were called by a woman whose garage was burglarized and soon took the boys into custody.

Lansing, June 26 (AP)—A new loudspeaker system which will include 10 microphones on the floor of the chamber, two microphones on the rostrum and recording and radio connection devices has been purchased by the Michigan House of Representatives.

TAX ON BEER AND CIGARETS TO PAY COSTS

of Harrison flew to confer with Kelly.

D. Hale Brake, state treasurer, told the committee the state could borrow money now "at one per cent or less" and on a 20-year revenue bond issue "could average one per cent or better."

When the state paid a bonus after the last war, interest ranged from 4 1/2 to 6 per cent, he declared.

Michigan paid veterans of the first World War $31,395,000 as a bonus, spent $23,454,668 on interest and $312,119 for administration. Total cost was $55,161,694, there were 153,839 claims paid and the average payment was $204. Each claim cost the state $358, including bonus payment, interest and administrative expenses.

Poland Is Granted $40,000,000 Credit, Must Lift Secrecy

Washington, June 26 (AP)—A $50,000,000 United States credit to Poland, suspended since May, was finally granted today after Poland promised to lift the veil of secrecy on her economic pacts with Russia and other nations.

The state department announced that complaints of Poland's failure to live up to the commitments under which the credit was originally authorized on April 24 had been met. Therefore, "this government has acceded to the request of the Polish provisional government and has authorized" restoration of the credit together with the resumption of the delivery of surplus property to finance which the credit was granted.

In addition, officials expected there would now be an early signing of a Polish contract with the Export-Import Bank for a $40,000,000 American loan. No action had been taken on the contract while the surplus property credit was in suspension.

The $40,000,000 is for the purchase of American locomotive and coal cars for the Polish state railways. The $50,000,000 is a credit for the purchase of trucks, bulldozers and other equipment from surplus U. S. Army stocks in Europe.

TRIESTE PUZZLE STILL UNSOLVED

Foreign Ministers Turn Down Soviet Proposal For Sovereignty

BY JOSEPH DYNAN

Paris, Thursday, June 27 (AP)—The foreign ministers conference has rejected a Russian proposal to place disputed Trieste either under dual sovereignty or under Yugoslav sovereignty as an autonomous district, authoritative circles said today.

The proposal was advanced by Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov at a special night meeting of the four-power conference called in an attempt to find a solution to the key question of the disposition of Trieste—the Adriatic city claimed by both Italy and Yugoslavia.

Before the three-hour meeting broke up shortly after midnight U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes said that if the foreign ministers could not settle the Trieste issue it should be referred to the 21-nation peace conference. Molotov answered it would be a mistake to disrupt the peace conference with this question.

In submitting his proposal, Molotov said Russia opposed internationalization of Trieste as proposed by Georges Bidault, French president and foreign minister.

Molotov obviously was disappointed at the reception his proposals received. He presented them, both British and American sources said, as great concessions which he hoped would be given ready assent.

Willie Loses Pants In Whisky-Wine Bet And Lands In Court

Detroit, June 26 (AP)—Willie Burns stood before Judge John P. Scallen today, clad only in a white shirt, a pair of khaki shorts and brown socks.

"What's this?" asked the astonished judge of the arresting patrolman.

"I found him sleeping this way in the downtown section," explained the officer.

It was Willie's turn. He explained he left home fully clothed, even with a hat, and $12. In a bar he bet that he could drink a mixture of whisky and wine. That's all he remembered.

Judge Scallen said he would dismiss the case after the patrolman remembered he had seen an old pair of pants hanging in police headquarters meant for a 200-pound man but which Willie could use and fill the legal requirements.

Captain Is Freed In Fatal Shooting Of Wife's Lover

New York, June 26 (AP)—Army Capt. Archie Miller, 28, who pleaded guilty to manslaughter in the fatal shooting of his estranged wife's lover, a fellow officer, rather than have her testify, received a suspended sentence today in general sessions court.

"It is a sad for a devoted husband with red blood in his veins not to do something about a situation like this when he comes home and finds his home violated," Judge John A. Mullen told the Bellevue, Tex., veteran of three years overseas service.

"I am going to give you a suspended sentence and place you on probation. I realize the provocation you had x x x"

'Scarface' Capone Leaves For Summer Place In Wisconsin

Miami, Fla., June 26 (AP)—Al Capone, the once dread "Scarface," was pictured today as a mild-mannered squire of Palm Island who wouldn't know a thing about the modern underworld and who thinks gawking tourists are "crazy."

"If Capone knows anything about present-day mobs or rackets, I'd be greatly surprised," the source said. He wouldn't know what you were talking about.

The one-time overlord of Chicago rackets now spends his days dawdling with a tennis racket, aimlessly batting a ball into a net with childlike happiness, the source said.

At Capone's luxurious estate on Palm Island in Biscayne Bay, D. J. Brown, his negro bodyguard-yardman, told newsmen that Capone left for his summer home in Wisconsin last week and that Mrs. Capone preceded him there by about three weeks.

USE OF PATENT STAKES URGED

Lumbering And Railway Officials To Meet At Stambaugh

Representatives of the Timber Producers association will meet with U. S. Forest Service and railroad officials at Stambaugh today to urge that flat cars used in log shipping in Northern Wisconsin and Upper Michigan be equipped with patent car stakes.

Loggers charge that annually out of the Upper Michigan area alone a sufficient number of trees are cut for pole car stakes, which if left to grow for 40 years would produce 40,000,000 log feet of timber.

This wasteful cutting, of choice young hardwood trees for car stakes, the loggers declare, is now responsible in many areas for removal of the most promising second growth timber.

Forestry representatives of several large railroads have indicated a cooperative attitude toward this conservation measure.

Yosuke Matsuoka, Former Jap Foreign Minister, Is Dead

Tokyo, Thursday, June 27 (AP)—The death of American-educated Yosuke Matsuoka, former foreign minister was announced today by the international tribunal before which he was on trial with 27 other accused war criminals.

The 66-year-old defendant died in the isolation ward of Tokyo Imperial University hospital. He had been suffering from tuberculosis, arthritis and other ailments.

A graduate of the University of Oregon, Matsuoka probably was best known as Japan's negotiator in the tripartite pact signed with Germany and Italy in 1940. He became foreign minister July 22, 1940.

The tribunal president, Sir William Webb, announced that Matsuoka's name would be stricken from the indictment as a result of his death, and all charges removed. At the request of Defense Counsel Franklin D. Warren, the court ordered the body turned over to the family.

No Retirement Pay For Former Prison Warden H. Jackson

Lansing, June 26. (AP)—Harry H. Jackson, former warden of the state prison of southern Michigan, is not eligible for retirement benefits, Attorney General John R. Dethmers ruled today.

Jackson, who is 63 years old and has been in state service for 19 years, had petitioned the state retirement board for service retirement. He was removed last August for "unsatisfactory service" as the result of Dethmers' investigation of the prison and his removal was upheld by the state Civil Service commission.

Dethmers declared that "One removed from his position for fault or neglect on his part cannot be said to have been separated for a reason beyond his control" as provided by the statute and therefore is not entitled to retirement benefits.

Dethmers said that the board should "upon proper application make refund of the contributions standing to his credit in the employees savings fund."

Automobile Output Is 1,680,000 Below Schedule For 1946

Detroit, June 26 (AP)—The Automobile Manufacturers Association reported today that the 654,000 passenger cars produced during the first six months of 1946 were 1,680,000 below schedule.

In the AMA announcement, General Manager George Romney said an estimated $1,500,000,000 in sales has been lost already this year and that additional loss was indicated.

Meanwhile, General Motors Corp. said its five auto manufacturing divisions produced 18,111 cars in the week ending June 22, compared to 16,290 the previous week. A total of 4,692 trucks were produced in the period compared to 4,802 the week before.

President C. E. Wilson of GM reported that strikes among suppliers continued to slow production of cars, but the output increase last week was attributed to a drop from 104 to 100 in strikes at supplier plants.

No Prospects Seen For Bigger Sugar Rations Until 1947

Chicago, June 26. (AP)—There can be no increase in sugar rations until the second quarter of 1947, but "it is hoped" that all sugar rationing can be lifted by early 1948, the National Confectioners' Association was told today.

Earl B. Wilson, president of the California & Hawaiian Sugar Corporation, San Francisco, said in an address prepared for the group's 63rd annual convention that prospects for 1947 are "substantially better."

Extension Of War Powers Act Voted

Washington, June 26 (AP)—House-Senate conferees today approved a bill extending the second war powers act—giving the government authority for rationing and for establishing priorities on scarce materials.

Most provisions were extended nine months from June 30, 1946, but one relating to building materials was continued for a full year.

Lloyd O. Jensen, Escanaba; Former Sgt. Onnie E. Honkonen, Rock; John L. Flink, Escanaba; Norbert C. Carlson, Escanaba; Philip L. Goodreau, Escanaba; Edward F. Kassick, Wells; Richard D. Lucier, Gladstone; Kenneth H. Neff, Gladstone; James R. O'Donnell, Escanaba; and Milton W. Sanford, Rapid River.

Many other names of men are not included above as the total number of men accepted cannot be determined until full reports are completed during the early part of July.

'Politics' In Veterans' Office Rapped By Board

Amid charges and counter-charges of "playing politics", the Delta county board of supervisors late yesterday adopted a resolution placing $1,000 at the disposal of the Delta county Office of Veterans' Affairs, but with the reservation that personnel of the office "not engage in political activity".

The resolution, prepared by the finance committee headed by Sup. Harold Gustafson of Esign township, also included the provision that all persons on the OVA payroll work full-time, and that expenditure of the $1,000 be controlled by a committee of three supervisors to be appointed by the board chairman, Chairman O. J. Thorsen said he wished to give the appointments careful study and would announce them later.

The county board has been approached several times in past years by representatives of the Office of Veterans' Affairs for appropriations to assist in financing the office, established under state law to aid and counsel world war veterans. Yesterday Atty. Robert Lemire, OVA counselor, appeared before the board to reiterate his request for funds, which had been referred to the finance committee at the previous board meeting. At that time it was reported the OVA had sufficient funds to meet its requirements for the time being.

Mayor Marvin L. Coon of Escanaba opposed the resolution, and refused to vote on it. Votes against the resolution were cast by Supervisors Joseph Casimir of Masonville township and Victor Nelson of Escanaba. The resolution was adopted by a vote of 22 yes, 2 no, and 1 not voting.

"There are so many restrictions on this it's not a very acceptable donation. I oppose it," said Mayor Coon.

"It was the feeling of the finance committee that there seems to be entirely too much political activity in connection with the office, which should be only a veterans' counseling center," said Sup. Gustafson. "We feel the restrictions are necessary, and that the office should be entirely free of any political party or affiliation. It is something we have thought about and studied for a long time. We want politics stricken out of that office."

"Your resolution is unwarranted," replied Mayor Coon. "I warn you that if that resolution is adopted, every other resolution will be carefully scrutinized in the future. Personal and political animosities are evident here."

In the discussion the name of Gerald Cleary, chairman of the Delta county Democratic committee was mentioned. Cleary has been closely connected with the Office of Veterans Affairs since its establishment, and served without compensation as counselor until the appointment of Atty. Lemire.

"Cleary draws no pay there," Mayor Coon declared.

"This resolution applies only to those on the payroll," Sup. Gustafson replied.

"Your resolution will look good in the papers, but it's not worth a damn," Mayor Coon said.

Supervisor Casimir of Masonville township said that he believed the committee's resolution "is a report from the opposite party and has brought politics into the matter," while Sup. Earl Paquin of Escanaba township was of the opinion that since it is "taxpayers' money" the county board should know how it is to be spent. Sup. Peter N. Logan of Escanaba favored the resolution because he said he believed it would open the way to further county board appropriations to the OVA in future.

"We know that Cleary is chairman of the Democratic party and we know that Lemire is a Republican," observed Sup. Gustafson. "We're not taking a pot-shot at either party. I say all we want is to get politics out of there."

Army Problems Solved

ACTION to settle just about all of the problems involving the nation's military requirements was taken by official Washington Tuesday. First and, of course, of greatest importance was the approval of the draft extension bill which provides assurance of meeting military manpower needs by selective service if volunteer methods fail.

Allied with the draft extension bill was approval of a separate measure to increase servicemen's pay, avowedly for the purpose of stimulating the military recruiting drive. The pay boosts are highest, 50 per cent, in the lowest pay grades because, of course, this is the group for which the greatest number of men are required and which has been the most difficult to attain necessary quotas.

Another action that is bound to be reflected in sharp improvement in the recruiting drive is the order by the secretary of war curbing saluting and adopting many other recommendations of the Doolittle "gripe board". The order which also eliminates the social differences between officers and enlisted men is designed to create more democracy in the American army and to materially enhance the dignity of the American enlisted man.

The army general staff has announced that it prefers a volunteer army and that it will not call any draftees in the months of July and August. If the rate of volunteers increases sufficiently, the army will not call any men through selective service channels even after the summer months have passed. Draft calls already issued for July undoubtedly will be cancelled.

Flying Vacations

FLYING magazine of Chicago assigned a staff photographer to the Michigan air tour to do a picture story that would describe a week's vacation by airplane to the north woods region.

The idea of the story was to show that with the rapid transportation the airplane offers it is possible to crowd flying, fishing, swimming, dancing and many other recreational activities in a week's vacation. When the story appears in Flying magazine, incidentally, the Escanaba area will receive some worthwhile publicity for the pictures will include scenes of canoeing and fishing on the Ford River.

Eventually, vacationing by airplane will be as commonplace as a sightseeing tour by automobile. Four decades ago, automobile trail-blazing tours were heralding the future development of motor cars, such as the Michigan air tour is doing in connection with aviation.

Communities in the Upper Peninsula vacation-land must look ahead to the time when hundreds of tourists will come to this region by airplane. True enough, the postwar development of private flying is somewhat slow in starting, but it is certain to come. When it does come, it will be the communities that have established adequate airport facilities that will get the air tourists.

Road Building Delayed

MUCH-NEEDED paving of Michigan highways has been curtailed because of shortages of steel and cement, Commissioner Ziegler reported at the meeting of the Upper Peninsula Road Builders' association in Houghton.

As a result, the state highway department will concentrate on grading projects, until materials are made available for concrete paving and bridge building. The highway situation is similar to that to be found in every industrial field. Everywhere there is an earnest desire on the part of industry to get into full production to supply the urgent demand for goods. But strikes and other hindrances, some of them government-caused, are blocking American enterprise.

There is a simple solution to the national problem of material shortages, however. All that is needed is for everyone to get back to work and stay on the job.

The Railway Depot

THE Chesapeake & Ohio railway has made another notable contribution to the progress of American railroading.

Under the enterprising leadership of Robert R. Young, chairman of the board, the C. & O. Lines have been responsible for a number of innovations. They crusaded for through passenger service from coast to coast and launched, an attack against block-booking of Pullman reservations. A subsidiary, the Pere Marquette railway, also recently introduced a ban against tipping in dining cars.

Now, the C. & O. has begun to glorify the small town railroad depot, which long has been an eyesore in many American communities. On its main line, at Prince, W. Va., the railway placed in operation a new passenger station, described as the finest and most modern of its size in the East. Innovations introduced in its construction include solar orientation, radiant heat, scientific circulation and purification of air, and ultra-violet lamps in lavatories as a protection against bacteria. It is to be hoped that the new C. & O. station will be emulated by other railroads throughout the nation. There is much room for improvement of this traditional institution, particularly in the small towns.

Security and Initiative

ONE begins to wonder when observing current conditions whether we have not missed one important point in our serious efforts to achieve social security for all during the past decade.

In the enactment of legislation to provide pensions for the aged and doles for the unemployed, isn't it possible that we have also stifled in many Americans those old-fashioned traits of initiative and enterprise that made this country great?

Too much security makes some people drift along. If they had to get a job or some kind of business to eat, they would do more serious thinking and harder work. It is under such conditions that enterprising persons invent new devices and processes, create new ideas for serving the consuming public, and develop new businesses and industries.

KEEP THE FARM (Emporia Gazette)

Many home-loving practical farmers, reports the Farm Credit administration, are wisely turning down tempting offers for their farms at prices far above the pre-war normal. The average farm owner should follow suit and continue to look upon his farm as a home, a job and an investment. The Farm Credit administration's research division has found that farmers who yield to tempting prices and the lure of town life, usually are not experienced in other types of investments, and often are the losers. Farmers who do sell out at high prices with the idea of re-investing in farm land in another area where prices appear to be lower, or who decide to hold the cash until land prices break, may be disappointed as others have been in the past. The hazard of a crop failure or two and a decline in the prices of farm products must be recognized, it is advised.

The importance of size and quality of the farming unit as they bear upon net income and the debt-paying capacity is receiving more attention by prudent farm buyers. Also, the availability of utilities and other advantageous locations of farm land to increase the home values for a happier country life are of increasing importance.

As time passes farmers are getting better and better advice from various agencies of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. This is illustrated in the recommendation that an owner of a well located productive farm should hesitate in putting a sales price on it now lest he lose his happy home.

STILL MORE GERMAN PERFDITY (St. Louis Post-Dispatch)

To feed his pride in a German triumph he had prepared at the start, old Joseph Wirth wrote a reminder in 1940 to Gustav Krupp von Bohlen und Halbach, and Krupp methodically filed it. Today, therefore, we know that Wirth, as Chancellor of the "peace-loving" Weimar Republic in 1920, secretly advanced Krupp's, the chief merchants of death, $48,000,000 for German rearmament. In the following years, according to a Krupp document, the fund was "nourished by yearly remittance" via Sweden.

By this revelation, the disclosure of perennial German perfidy grows still stronger—a rabid disease of war, murder and conquest that lost none of its vitality in the broken years after Versailles and that remains still vital today with Hitler counted dead and the country again broken. Here, too, the British tenderness against bringing German industrialists to trial becomes the more understandable, for it is perfectly sure that many beside the Krupps were implicated in crimes against mankind during and during the recent war. And thus, above all, can we see the ultimate folly which the British and Russians pursue today in trying to win the Germans for allies against one another.

The only thing some people have on the ball is a number 8.

THOSE CALIFORNIA ANGELS

From G. S. G., San Fernando:
Dad the guy whose words are these:
"I'm going to Loss An-juh-leez."
And there's the man who says it thus:
"I'm living in Lahss Ahng-lee-uss."
But I lack nerve to name the place
Of angels as Lohss Ahng-hay-lace.
That I'm a low-brow I confess;
To me it's just Loss An-juh-less.

In California's largest city, it seems, "you pays your money, and you takes your choice." So far as my knowledge goes, there is no other city in the country where the name is pronounced with so many conflicting variations.

The difficulty arises from the average American's unfamiliarity with Spanish phonetics. The name Los Angeles (Spanish: Lohss AHNG-hay-lace) is capable of various Anglicized pronunciations, as our San Fernando poet cleverly points out, and all are to be found in American dictionaries and gazetteers.

Which pronunciation actually prevails in the city itself I cannot say with certainty, although I have been in Los Angeles scores of times since my early boyhood.

All this would seem to be confusing,

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington—The evidence is increasing that this year in the White House with all its trials and tribulations, its crises and complaints, has worn President Truman's patience to the breaking point. The latest piece of evidence is the extraordinary letter he sent to Sen. Charles W. Tobey of New Hampshire.

Childs

That letter is being passed among Harry Truman's old friends in the Senate. They shake their heads over it uncomprehendingly and ask each other what has happened to Harry. Several Republicans have urged Tobey to read the text of the letter on the floor of the Senate but on the urging of his wife, the New Hampshire senator decided against that.

—POULTRY WERE DYING—

The poultry wrote in reply to a telegram from Tobey which was an appeal for allocation of grain to poultry raisers in New England. In his wire to the White House, Tobey said he was raising "a macedonian cry" in behalf of the farmers of the state who were seeing their poultry die because they could not get feed.

This has been a bitter complaint by senators from various sections of the country. It has come from some who, like Tobey, are convinced internationalists and favor sending all possible relief to Europe. They argue that by taking certain additional steps the government could temporarily "borrow" grain for allocation to poultry men without interfering with shipments to Europe.

"The tragic situation," said Tobey in his wire, "has been accentuated by the government's raising the price it is paying for grain for foreign shipment. Let the government purchase grain to save our farmers, the while it does this for the needy abroad. The situation demands heroic action."

—TOLD TO COOL OFF—

In his reply the President said Tobey spent all his time crying about something, and he, for one, was disgusted with it. Human beings were more important than animals, said the President.

"You need a cooling off period," the President's letter concluded. "When you have cooled off, come and see me."

Senators are extremely sensitive of their status and their dignity. Such language was scarcely calculated to make friends and influence people on Capitol Hill. But the most remarkable part of the letter was that which disclosed the real amicus behind it.

President Truman accused Tobey of trying to destroy a man whom the President described as one of the ablest citizens in the country. He was speaking of Edwin K. Pauley, whom he nominated for under secretary of navy. A storm of criticism that arose in the course of hearings before the Senate Naval Affairs committee compelled Pauley to withdraw his name.

Pauley was charged with having participated in a concerted drive by oil interests to compel the federal government to surrender its interest in Tideland oil. With vast deposits involved, the safeguarding of military reserves seemed to be an issue. For his articles, which had much to do with precipitating the Senate inquiry, Edward A. Harris, a reporter on the St. Louis Post-Dispatch received a Pulitzer prize.

After Pauley withdrew his name, the President appointed him to survey reparations in Japan and Korea, and determine whether Russia had removed Japanese industry from Manchuria. Pauley had previously carried out similar assignments in Europe and Asia with great skill and dispatch.

—LOYAL TO HIS FRIENDS—

Far from alienating the President, Pauley's halting and inept performance as a witness before the Naval Affairs committee seems to have intensified Truman's loyalty to him. That is one of President Truman's chief characteristics—unswerving loyalty to those who have helped him. It reflects his conditioning in the tough political Kansas that Tom Pendergast conducted in Kansas City for so many years.

In the Pauley hearings, Tobey asked the most searching questions. It is possible that Pauley might have been confirmed if it had not been for the New Hampshire man's persistence. If Pauley had been confirmed, he would have worked to push through unification of the armed services with the probability of himself becoming the first secretary of national defense.

But before the Pauley episode, Tobey had fought valiantly for such essential administration measures as Bretton Woods, the British loan, and the reciprocal trade agreements. He is credited with playing a vital part in obtaining approval by the Senate of the Bretton Woods monetary plan. A few weeks after Truman entered the White House, Pauley with Senator George Aiken of Vermont paid a call on him to assure him that regardless of party lines they would support him in the major steps of his program. The President's hasty letter may have alienated a useful friend. That is a high price to pay for party loyalty on the Pauley level.

but it isn't at all. Residents of the city are nicely impartial, and accept all the pronouncements with equal grace, thus saving themselves endless bickerings and the splitting up into separate camps. "You call it your way, and I'll call it mine," settles the matter sensibly, and gives everybody just that much more time for drinking orange juice, going to the beaches, and trying to cross the street at Hollywood and Vine.

The problem of pronunciation, however, could have assumed frightening proportions had the city retained its complete and original name. I don't want to be morbid, but I do ask you to imagine what a linguistic quagmire the Californians and the rest of us 140 million Americans would have made of: El Pueblo de Nuestra Señora la Reina de los Angeles!

Our Changing World

"NO!"

Good Morning!

By The Bugler

WAR'S AFTERMATH—There are many people in this country whose taste is revolted by dark bread but whose sensibilities are undisturbed by the hunger and suffering among the people of war-torn countries. There are also, thank God, many other Americans who willingly share to ease the plight of women and children who are victims of war.

This suffering of wartime and now is vividly described by Mrs. Yvonne Guerillot of Asnières, France, in a recent letter to her friend, Mrs. Helen Cloutier of 809 Third avenue south, Escanaba. The two became friends back about 1926 when the then Miss Yvonne Fournier of Dinard, France, won a scholarship to Lawrence College, Appleton. Later Miss Fournier taught French in the Manistique high school for one year before returning to France, made her home with Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hargreaves at Cullingsworth Manor, Indian Lake. Mrs. Cloutier is a daughter of the Hargreaves.

Returning to France from Manistique, Miss Fournier married M. Guerillot and for four or five years they lived in French equatorial Africa, where he held a government position. Saving their money they returned to France to purchase twenty lorries for desert travel—but the husband was inducted into the French army and the war wiped out their savings.

THE LETTER—Following are excerpts from Mrs. Guerillot's letter: "When I last wrote to you I was teaching in Bain-de-Bretagne, do you remember? The Germans were rushing through the town. We were being bombed and shelled. But thank God we were not killed. But as soon as the Germans got hold of the town, the school where I was teaching was closed and I lost my job."

Mrs. Guerillot opened a private day-school. In January, 1941, her father died and her mother came to live with the daughter. Because they were in the country, they had plenty to eat. In August of that year, warned through Free French Forces that her husband and brother had been sentenced to death by the Vichy Government, Mrs. Guerillot and her son, Claude, and her mother, fled to Paris. Two days later the German Gestapo was looking for them in the country village. They would have sent her to a German "death camp" as the wife of a condemned man. To hide her identity in Paris she took other work than teaching.

"1941-1942. Those years are like hell in my memory: very little money, nothing to eat, no proper clothes to wear. You can't imagine how it was. We starved. That's the very word for it. I would go hungry 24 hours a day, laying sleeplessly at night for hunger. We'd eat beet leaves, carrot leaves, nettles, cooked as spinach, and turnips. No butter, no fat, no milk. The little meat and sugar and bread we got. I gave them to Claude. My mother and I became walking skeletons. I would sometimes faint twice a day for want of food."

(A better job, better pay, a little more food—and so, the years passed away.) There were many bombings. Then in 1944 came V-E

10 Years Ago—1936

Mrs. Frank Palm of Antigo, Wis., mother of Mrs. Carl E. Anderson, is in St. Francis hospital suffering with a hip fracture as the result of a fall in the yard of the Anderson home, 910 South 17th street, Tuesday evening.

By tonight, concrete paving will be practically completed on 13th street, the first project in Escanaba's 50-block WPA program for 1936.

Virgil Porter, 28, of Portsmouth, Ohio, is being held in the Delta county jail on a charge of negligent homicide, as the result of the automobile accident here on June 16 which caused the death of Peter Blake, of Bark River.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dupont, 429 South 13th street, are the parents of a son, weighing seven and three-quarters pounds, born June 23 at the Alvina Bucholtz maternity home, 1711 First Avenue south. The baby is the first in the family.

20 Years Ago—1926

Gladstone—Miss Helen Dahlgren is resigning her position at Rouman's candy kitchen today and will take a two weeks' vacation before leaving for Sweden where she will pay an extended visit with relatives.

Marquette, Wis.—Several men are in the hospital with injuries and one man is in jail as a result of a clash between Klansmen and anti-Klansmen at a public meeting of the local branch of the Klan organization here tonight.

St. Annes, England—Bobby Jones, beloved of America's amateur golfers and almost as popular in England as he is in his homeland, left the Royal Lytham and St. Annes golf course tonight to catch a liner home tomorrow, the proud possessor of the world's most cherished golfing trophy—the British open championship cup.

Day with constant bombing, shelling, shooting—"from July 1 till October we lived like brutes!" "When the American troops arrived, we were frantic with joy. The nightmare was over, we were going to live."

THE GREAT NEED—"But we had hoped for too much. This poor Europe can't recover from a couple of terrible things in a such a few years."

(Conditions did improve, but food and clothing are still scarce; clothing disappears with a pulpy mass at the first washing about which we're used to getting along.)

"We're used to the shop windows without any stockings, even in winter when it snows and freezes. The same for clothing. We've used the blankets and sheets from our beds to make suits, and dresses, and shirts. We used everything we had, and tried to look smart, for we didn't want to look sloppy and downhearted—we wanted to show the Germans we didn't mind being starved or bombed, or anything, and that nothing would prevent us from being as high-spirited as ever."

HELPING HAND—There is more to the letter, but space is limited. Mrs. Cloutier of Escanaba had requested her friend to tell her of her needs, and if she might help.

Mrs. Guerillot asked only for things for her son, who is now 15 years old—"clothes as he is now the poorest boy in a suit." His size is chest 43, waist 37, trouser length 34 inches. Only used garments may be sent, for if new the recipient must pay duty. Mrs. Cloutier has been unable to find a boy's suit, and perhaps readers

Q If a veteran files a claim for one condition and later discovers another disability which he believes to be service-connected, may he file another claim for that condition?

A Yes. He should write to the nearest Veterans Administration office for a form to file for the additional claim.

Q Is time spent in the Enlisted Reserve Corps credited on the service record or is it only included in the longevity pay record?

A Time spent in the Enlisted Reserve Corps is not credited in the service record. It is only included in the longevity record to be used for the purpose of computing pay.

Q Is it true that a veteran of World War I must be over 21 years of age to draw a pension?

A No, pensions are not paid on the basis of age but rather on the basis of service and disability.

Q Can a 30-30 cartridge be used in a 30 caliber Springfield rifle?

A No. Although the caliber is the same, 30, the length of the cartridge is different, and the 30-30 will not fit the Springfield rifle.

Q Should plus and minus scoring be used at a Progressive Bridge party?

A It is not very popular now for Progressive Bridge. The usual custom is for each player to list on her tally card her total score for each game, with no deductions for opponents' score.

Q Name the first three batters struck out by Carl Hubbell in the first game of the 1933 World Series.

A They were Myer, Goslin, and Manush of the Washington Senators.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington—President Truman had a significant off-the-record talk last week with CIO Chief Phil Murray to discuss moves to combat inflation. Also present Director John Steelman was reconversion.

Truman began by thanking Murray for his help in avoiding a Maritime strike.

"I want you to know that I appreciate what you did there," Phil said the President. Then, switching immediately to price control, he asked Murray how he thought the country could stabilize and get production.

"Mr. President," replied Murray, "if you get an efficient price control bill out of congress and effective administration of the law by the OPA, you will have a stabilized economy."

"I know that, Phil," countered the president, "but what we need for production now is fewer strikes."

"Well, Mr. President, we're certainly doing our share," Murray replied. "You recall that, pursuant to your request, our steel workers extended their contract. The contract was supposed to have expired last October but we put the date off until the following February in order to guarantee uninterrupted production. You asked me to do the same thing in the auto industry and I did it so that they would have one year's full production. You asked me to do it in the electrical industry and I did it there too. I don't see how much more we can do. The CIO didn't call the recent coal or railroad strikes."

"That's true, Phil," Truman replied. "You've made every contribution in the interest of the nation that I have asked you to make, and I want you to know that I appreciate your patriotism."

—TRUMAN FAVORED LEWIS—

Murray didn't say so, but he was extremely bitter over one incident which he did not discuss with the President. Despite the fact that Murray had kept all his promises to the White House, Truman recently told Chester Bowles that John L. Lewis was the only trustworthy labor leader in the country.

Instead of mentioning this, however, Murray said that if an effective piece of price-control legislation passed congress he would join with all other labor men and with management in a conference devoted to guaranteeing an end to strikes for the duration of effective price control.

Truman, however, was not too enthusiastic about this. He suggested that Murray follow the matter up with Secretary of Labor Lew Schwelmbach.

This was an eye-opener to Murray, for he knew that Schwelmbach was on his way to Alaska for a long vacation.

—ATOM PRIZE FIGHT—

It happened at the Louis-Corn fight. Bernie Baruch had ordered a solid row of what were described as ringside seats for his guests. His guests turned out to be the members of the United Nations Atomic commission, all fight experts in their own right.

After Joe Louis disposed of Billy Conn for the night, Baruch leaned over to Russian Delegate Andrei Gromyko and Australia's hard-hitting Herbert Evatt.

"Well, that's the end of the fight," he explained. "When the referee waves his hands like that he has decided that the fight is over."

"Do you mean," asked Russian Delegate Gromyko, "that his decision is final?"

"Right," replied Australia's Evatt. "This is one place you can't exercise the veto power."

—FRIENDLY RIVALS—

If the above sounded like needling, that's exactly what it was meant to be. Evatt is the best insider in the United Nations. And, surprising as it may seem, Gromyko doesn't mind it. Nothing delights Gromyko more than to outsmart Evatt, though he rarely gets a chance.

At the U. N. security council meeting the other day, Gromyko and Evatt crossed foils again. Later, Evatt godfathered complained to the French Delegate Parodi that Gromyko was the toughest customer he had come up against in the whole United States.

"That's nothing," Gromyko shot back, "you're the toughest guy I've met in the whole world, and I've met a lot of tough ones."

The Evatt-Gromyko battle of wits has developed some of the shrewdest manipulating any recent international conference has seen. Gromyko is sly as a fox. At meetings, Evatt never takes his eyes off him. The Australian is now chairman of the Atomic commission, and the other day, Arkady Sobolov, the Russian assistant secretary general, called Evatt on the phone and asked that he recognize Gromyko as the first speaker at next day's Atomic commission meeting.

"I'll think it over," Evatt said. "But," protested Sobolov, "Gromyko wrote you a letter asking to be recognized first and the rules provide that the man who asks first be called first."

"Oh no," Evatt shot back, "the rules provide that the delegate who raises his hand first on the floor be called first. Besides, I want to show old Gromyko he's not the only one who has the veto power. Yesterday he vetoed our decision on Franco. So tomorrow I think I'll veto him when he asks to speak first."

Next day, Gromyko, who had already released his prepared speech to the press, twisted and squirmed for fear Evatt wouldn't call on him. Finally, after ignoring him for nearly an hour, Evatt suddenly turned, caught Gromyko by surprise, and asked him to speak.

New Army Bomber Larger Than B-29

Washington—In size the new Army giant land-based bomber, the XB-36, is roughly 40% larger than the famous B-29 Superfortress that did so much in bringing Japan to her knees. Its engines deliver more than twice as much power. In performance, much is expected, but little is known because this super-super plane is still on the ground.

Construction of the new giant is completed and the plane is now under ground and taxi tests. Its first flight is scheduled for later in the summer. It was built at the North Worth, Texas, plant of the Consolidated-Vultee Aircraft Corporation. It was designed and constructed under Army supervision.

For comparison, the XB-36 has a wing span of 230 feet, and the B-29 a span of 141 feet. The fuselage of the new giant is 163 feet long; that of the Superfortress, 98 feet. The new plane is powered with six Pratt-Whitney 3,000 horsepower engines; the older plane, with four engines delivering together 8,800 maximum horsepower thrust. The XB-36 is equipped with pusher-type propellers, set in the after part of the wings. It needs 15 men in its crew.

Concrete Floors Have Elasticity If Asphalt Added

Buffalo, N. Y.—Hard floors, particularly concrete, are hard on the feet, everybody knows, but how they can be made springy or resilient is not common knowledge. It can be done, however, by the addition of asphalt to the cement mix before it is applied to the floor.

How the concrete-asphalt mix is made and applied was explained here today at the meeting of the American Society for Testing Materials by F. O. Anderegg of the John B. Pierce Foundation. The mix was developed by the foundation in its program of reducing costs and improving quality in building materials and methods.

"It has been found," he said, "that a combination of portland cement, asphalt, and aggregate could be used in laying a floor which resists idention much better than an asphalt floor, while markedly reducing the spine jarring impact of the straight cement concrete floor."

After experimenting with various mixtures of asphalt emulsions it was found, he stated, that concretes of satisfactory strength have been obtained in the range of 7 1/2 per cent to 12 1/2 per cent cement and with 2 per cent to 3 per cent emulsion.

DEMOS CHOOSE 28 DELEGATES

Van Wagoner Endorsed
As Gubernatorial
Candidate

Delta county Democrats, meeting in convention last night at the county courthouse, endorsed Murray D. Van Wagoner, the party's nominee for governor in the fall election, and chose the following 26 delegates to represent the county at the state convention in Lansing on July 6: Gerald Cleary, Wendell Lund, Violet Patterson, Marvin Coon, J. E. Trombley, Gladstone, Claude Tobin Jr., Wheaton Strom, William Boyle, Bark River, Harold Green, Fred LaChapell, Arnold Froberg, James Dotsch, Myron Legg, Arnold Rosow, Dr. Thomas McInerney and Jack Erickson.

The motion to adopt the resolution endorsing Van Wagoner was made by C. P. Titus, former school commissioner of Delta county who has taken a position in lower Michigan. Titus also expressed his thanks for past party support and introduced his successor, Hagle Quarmstrom of Gladstone.

The resolutions followed: Whereas, Murray D. Van Wagoner has served the people of the State of Michigan brilliantly and beyond comparison in the high offices of Highway Commissioner and Governor, and

Whereas, his public life has so well expressed the innate kindness, the executive capacity and the keen sense of justice of this truly great leader, and

Whereas, the Democratic electorate of Michigan, on June 18, 1946, in their wisdom, have selected Murray D. Van Wagoner as Governor of the State of Michigan, once again affirming their confidence in the integrity and ability of their standard bearer.

Now therefore, Be it resolved that the delegates to the Delta County Democratic Convention being met in assembly on this 26th day of June, 1946 do hereby pledge their support and record their loyalty to Murray D. Van Wagoner, the Democratic candidate for the office of Governor of the State of Michigan, and to do their utmost to insure good government in Michigan by electing him to the highest office in the state in the 1946 general election.

The convention also adopted resolutions expressing the sorrow of its members for the recent deaths of Atty. Torval E. Strom and Peter R. Legg, state representative.

Prosecutor Backs His Strike Action

Marquette—In a statement outlining his activities during the 103-day iron mine strike on the Marquette range and defending specifically his action in writing letters to the mining companies seeking to end a "back-to-work" movement because it was a "provocation to violence," Prosecutor John D. Voelker yesterday told the county board of supervisors that "if there are some people who want to make an issue out of the way I conducted my office during the strike, I'll gladly meet the issue head on."

"If we had another strike and the same situation arose, I would do the same thing if I were prosecutor," Voelker said.

His resume of events during the strike was presented personally by the board's permission, and the board listened intently while the prosecutor told of his meetings with other police officials and his correspondence with the Inland Steel company. The report was ordered printed in the minutes of the meeting.

Swedish Neutrality Given Credit For Curbing Great War

Detroit, (AP)—Count Folke Bernadotte, nephew of Sweden's King Gustav V, declared that the neutrality of Sweden "very likely kept the European war from turning into a hopeless battle royal."

"We have been criticized, perhaps, because we did not enter the war," he said in an interview upon arriving in Detroit for a two-day visit. "It was not easy to keep the right course. We did what we thought was right."

Count Bernadotte, with his American-born wife, the former Estelle Manville, daughter of H. Edwards Manville, New York industrialist, will be guests of C. B. Thomas, president of Chrysler Export Corp., during their stay here. A tour of Chrysler plants, a visit to the Ford plant and a luncheon with Henry Ford II were included among the events arranged for them.

PROPERTY SURVEY URGED

Iron Mountain — After somewhat heated discussion, the county board approved, 8 to 6, an aggregate equalized county valuation figure of $15,495,625 for 1946, as submitted by the various governing units in their tentative budgets to the county allocation board, and proposed, also, that a private company be retained next year to make a complete reappraisal of every governing unit in the county, similar to the work now underway in Delta county.

County's Value Boosted To $25,320,357 On Basis Of Clevinshaw Figures

Although questioned by some supervisors from the townships, appraisal figures of the J. M. Clevinshaw company were used as a basis in the equalization of Delta county with a resulting boost of the total to $25,320,357. This total is $1,295,840 above last year when values were set by the state tax commission.

Eight supervisors voted against the equalization committee's report which was prepared following three days' work. The report was presented by Sup. Allen T. Mercier, committee chairman, of Nahma township.

The vote was 17 yes to 8 no and the motion to adopt the report carried. Voting against the report were Supervisors George Berg of Brampton township, E. W. Carlson of Baldwin, Joseph Casimir of Masonville, Jerry Fenlon of Ford River, Harry Greene of Garden, Earl Paquin of Escanaba township, Omer Tanguay of Bark River, and Peter N. Logan of Escanaba city.

Following a no vote on last year's equalization, Logan appealed to the state tax commission for an equalization.

In presenting the report for the committee, Supervisor Mercier said the Clevinshaw figures had been "used as a guide," and valuations for the various units were based on 90 per cent of the Clevinshaw totals "with a few exceptions which did not amount to much."

Although real property values were boosted by the board, personal property was left as assessed except for the city of Gladstone, where the assessed figures of $211,600 was increased to $350,000.

The decision to hire the Clevinshaw company to make a reappraisal of real property values in the 14 townships of Delta county was made in June last year, when the board was unable to arrive at equalization because it did not have the necessary factual information for the townships and Gladstone. Escanaba had already had the Clevinshaw complete a reappraisal in the city. Under its contracts with the county to appraise the townships, and a separate contract for Gladstone, the necessary information was available to the supervisors this year.

Township supervisors questioned the Clevinshaw figures, however, particularly in connection with land appraisals. Some refused to use the Clevinshaw figures "because of the many mistakes." A recent charge by E. T. Wilkins of the Clevinshaw company that some supervisors were "juggling" the valuation figures brought a denial from Supervisor Harold Gutsafson of Ensign township.

"The Clevinshaw company made mistakes, many mistakes. In my township I could not see fit to use their figures for that reason. There were too many discrepancies and I had to use my best judgment. They should come back and correct their errors, and do as good a job in the townships as they did in the cities," Gutsafson said.

Supervisor Gutsafson cited "discrepancies" to illustrate his point, and said that he believed the company's appraisers "made some of their surveys of land from a car parked on the road." In one instance, he said, the Clevinshaw appraisal showed 15 tillable acres on one farm, when in reality there is but only a couple of acres.

Sup. H. E. Cassidy of Gladstone, as soon as the equalization report was adopted, moved to have the prosecutor draw a resolution requesting the Clevinshaw company appraisers to return and re-survey the townships on the properties in question "so there will be no dispute on the figures next year."

Support to this proposal was given by both township and city supervisors. Supervisor Tanguay of Bark River said he had heard talk among the farmers of seeking an injunction to halt payment to

REA FINANCES ARE REPORTED

Alger - Delta Cooperative
Received $435,674.04
From Government

Washington, D. C. (WNS)—Alger-Delta Cooperative Electric Association, Gladstone, which operates in Delta county, has received $435,674.04 from the Rural Electrification administration, and has paid into the government $84,346.98, it was learned today.

The financial standing of the Alger-Delta co-op was made public as of March, 1946.

Of the total amount paid to the government by the cooperative, $28,043.99 represents principle, of which $2,000 is advance pay on a total construction allotment of $433,455.23. REA officials state the Clevinshaw company for its work. Superintendent Paquin of Escanaba township complained that Clevinshaw men were not at meetings of boards of review, and objected to charges that values were "juggled." Sup. S. R. Wickman agreed that the company appraisers should return, and added that they should receive the cooperation of the supervisors in making the survey.

The resolution to be drawn will ask the Clevinshaw company to complete its survey in the county on values in controversy before November 15 of this year.

The appraised valuations reported by the various boards of review, and the equalized values established by the county board for 1946 are as follows:

Unit	Assessed Value	Equalized Value
Baldwin	$ 575,328	$ 620,322
Bark River	880,250	970,000
Bay de Noc	250,050	268,000

Fairbanks	293,173	308,625
Ford River	732,675	786,200
Garden	509,125	560,450
Maple Ridge	663,915	687,900
Masonville	569,570	660,570
Nahma	776,894	828,000
Wells	2,040,150	2,349,150
Escanaba City	9,792,925	11,629,400
Gladstone City	2,700,680	2,978,500
Totals	$22,534,317	$25,320,357

that the great number of borrowers who are repaying loans faster than the contract requires is significant to the healthy condition of efforts to electrify rural areas throughout the country. Most borrowers, REA stated, are either up to date or paid in advance.

REA's contract with the Alger-Delta Cooperative Electric Association, calls for total allocation of $563,000 in loans for construction and $7,000 for installation. REA has advanced $2,218.81 for installation, all of which has been repaid.

The Alger-Delta co-op has made interest payments totaling $56,302.99, of which $56,302.99 has been applied to the construction loan. No interest payments are in default.

Copper Pennies May Be Discarded

Washington—Copper pennies, now rapidly replacing the war time substitutes, may not be the common coins a generation from now. The reason is that the U. S. may run out of copper by then.

Elmer Pehrson, chief of the economics and statistics service of the Bureau of Mines here, estimates that, on the basis of the country's rate of consumption of copper for the five years before the war, copper reserves will only last another 33 years. If there aren't enough copper pennies then the zinc-coated coins that were used during the war won't be the answer, because the life of zinc reserves is listed as only 18 years.

Urging stockpiles of our metal reserves, Mr. Pehrson warns that some other metals are going to run out before copper and zinc. Bureau of Mines estimates place reserves of mercury at only two years; tungsten and antimony, three years; vanadium six years; and lead 11 years.

"Rented the first day" said Smith.

Direct Relief

Lansing (AP)—A study of state financial aid to the city physician's office in Detroit was ordered by the Social Welfare Commission after the city asked the state to up its share of the costs.

Currently, 22.5 per cent of the city's physician's office expenses are borne by the state, based on an estimate that 45 per cent of the cases are matchable with state funds. Director F. F. Fauri pointed out. In such cases, the state pays 50 per cent of the costs incurred.

Participation by the state was cut in 1944 from 45 to 30 per cent of the cases. The city asked that the state increase the percentage of matching cases, assume 100 per cent obligation for dental clinic costs and add X-ray, laboratory and pension expenses to the matching formula.

Fauri reported direct relief cases down 5,102 in May from the April total and payments $16,129 under the previous month. The caseload was 21,093 in May and required $817,048. Fauri attributed the decrease to "strike settlement and return to work" and predicted the caseload would "average off at 19,000 to 20,000." A total of 4,179 cases were closed in May, two-fifths of them resulting from increased earnings or expanded employment, he said. The average per case jumped to $38.4 from $31.81 in April, due Fauri declared, to larger families remaining on relief.

Ceilings Raised On Ford Tractors

Washington—(AP)—OPA granted an increase of $127.16 in the manufacturers' price ceilings on farm tractors produced by the Ford Motor company.

distributors of Ford tractors, received a "proportionate increase", OPA said, which results in its list price advancing from $828.81 to $956.21. OPA said the price boost would compensate for higher labor and materials costs. Dragonflies feed on horseflies.

Quadruple Amputee Enjoys Rural Life On His 143 Acres

Birmingham, Ala., (AP)—Fred Hensel—a quadruple amputee of the last war—enjoys rural life on his 143 acres, located 12 miles north of here, but it'll be next fall before he'll be able to realize his ambition of becoming a grand scale chicken farmer.

Hensel, 27, was serving as a master sergeant on Okinawa when he lost both arms and his legs. A mine which he chanced to step on was responsible.

Today he has discharge papers from Percy Jones hospital in Battle Creek, Mich., and his proudest accomplishment of the moment is his ability to rake hay with his specially designed tractor. He has just finished raking 17 acres.

Hensel, outfitted with artificial legs and adaptable hooks for hands, arrived at his "Dream Farm" May 2—much too late to go into the chicken business on a thousand-lot scale, but he has made a start with a recent purchase of 70 baby chicks—and believes by fall the venture will be well on its way.

Hensel let it be known that he wanted a chicken farm while he was hospitalized at Battle Creek. Newspapers publicized his ambitions and it wasn't long before money started coming in from citizens all over the country. Before the flow finally stopped the fund had reached $40,000.

Now a typical farmer, Hensel arises at 5 a. m. each day and shaves himself with an electric razor. His wife helps him about the place when he elects to use a wheel chair instead of his artificial legs, and he has a specially built car—a gift of an automobile manufacturer—which he drives with ease.

Because he arrived late in the year, his crop production this year will be small. He has some hay, 10 acres of corn, and is also fattening 20 head of cattle which were part of the farm purchase.

Passengers Need Cabin - Pressure Above Two Miles

Washington—The recent order of the Civil Aeronautics Administration to disconnect temporarily the cabin-pressure equipment in all Constellations will not necessarily ground these giant transports, but will keep them for the present under about 12,000 feet above sea level, in the zone used by most other transports where oxygen apparatus for passengers is not needed.

The order is a result of a recent forced landing of a Constellation because of fire started, it is thought, from a broken shaft from engine to pressurizer.

The speedy, long-range, 64-passenger Lockheed Constellations, nearly two score of which are in use, customarily fly at about 18,000 to 20,000 feet altitude to dodge storms, secure smooth riding and make speed. They are used by several airlines both for transcontinental and transoceanic scheduled flights. They are safe planes at low altitudes but are cabin-pressured so that they may use three-mile heights to secure speed and passenger comfort.

Disconnecting the cabin-pressure equipment is, of course, only a temporary matter until investigations made by the government and airline engineers determine the cause of the recent fire and if the equipment is faulty in any way.

Miss Gladys LeBeau
Becomes The Bride
Of Henry Seymour

Schaffer—At a pretty double wedding which took place on June 22, two couples exchanged vows before the Rev. Fr. Roland Dion at a nuptial high mass at the Sacred Heart church of Schaffer.

Before an altar decorated with pink roses, peonies and snapdragons, combined with bridal wreaths and ferns, Miss Gladys LeBeau, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey LeBeau, became the bride of Henry D. Seymour, son of Mrs. Blanche Seymour, and Miss Viola Dumas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dumas of Bark River, became the bride of Donald Cadman of Chicago, son of Mrs. Anne Cadman. Both brides were given in marriage by their fathers.

Miss LeBeau wore a long-trained gown with a white satin bodice and full skirt of white chiffon. The long sleeves tapered to points at the wrists. Her finger-tip veil, with a three-inch edge of French imported lace, was held in place by a seed pearl tiara. She carried a bouquet of white gladioli, snapdragons, and red roses.

She was attended by Miss Theresa Seymour, who wore a gown of aqua net with a narrow peplum edged in pink ribbon. Her matching veil was held in place by a tiara of aqua flowers, and she carried a bouquet of pink roses and blue snapdragons.

Rev. Seymour served as best man.

The music of the mass was sung by the children's choir. At the offertory, the "Ave Maria" was sung by a group of girls. Following the communion, the choir sang "On This Day." The traditional wedding marches were played by the organist, Mrs. B. Seymour. Following the ceremony, 40 guests attended dinner at the Seymour home in the pink and blue decorated dining room, where a three-tiered cake centered the table.

Six o'clock supper was served at the LeBeau home, where arrangements of pastel spring flowers effectively decorated the rooms for the occasion.

Among the out of town guests attending the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Agesen, Flint; Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Laurin, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Laurin, Mr. and Mrs. Lester LeBeau, Mr. and Mrs. Roy LeBeau, Mr. and Mrs. Urby LeBeau, Clarence LeBeau, of Nadeau; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph LeBeau of Stephenson; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Greenville and daughter, Betty, Mr. and Mrs. Fred White of Iron Mountain; Mrs. Walter LeBeau, Flint; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Beaudry, Quinnesec; Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Pecore, Mr. and Mrs. DeLore LeBlanc, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sherlock, and William Farrell of Escanaba.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Joel Olson of Port Huron are the parents of a daughter, Mary Ellen, born June 8. Mr. Olson is a former resident of Escanaba and is a son of Peter J. Olson. This is the second child in the family, the first a son. He was formerly a life-guard at the beach here.

Virginia Peterson Becomes The Bride Of Henry Levesque

At a nuptial high mass which took place recently at St. Joseph's church, Miss Virginia Peterson, daughter of Mrs. Gunnar Peterson, 706 South 19th street, became the bride of Henry Levesque, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Levesque of Schaffer. The Rev. Fr. Alphonse Wilberding officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Kenneth Peterson, wore a white brocaded satin gown with drop shoulders and long fitted sleeves. The full skirt had a bustle back extending in a train. Her fingertip veil, edged with ruffled lace, was gathered to a crown of seed pearls. The bride's Colonial bouquet was of pink roses, white carnations and chrysanthemums, tied with tiny white streamers.

Miss Leah Levesque, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. Her gown was of pale yellow satin and net, and she wore a matching shoulder length veil. Miss Bobby Vandanaer, the bridesmaid, wore a similar gown of pale green, with matching veil. They carried Colonial bouquets of pink roses, yellow lilies and carnations, tied with contrasting bows.

Don Caron served as best man. Dwyne Peterson, brother of the bride, was groomsmen, and Sam Peterson was the usher.

Solos of the mass were sung by Mrs. Eldridge Baker. At the offertory, Mrs. John Cass sang the "Ave Maria". The traditional wedding marches were played by the organist, Miss Eva Cossette.

Reception Is Held
Mrs. Peterson attended her daughter's wedding wearing a light lavender dress with black accessories and a shoulder corsage of red roses.

Following the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served to the bridal party at the home of the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. William Papineau. Later in the day, the bride cut the three-tiered wedding cake at a reception for 75 guests, held at the Levesque residence.

The newly-married couple left later for a two weeks motor trip to Wisconsin, Indiana, and Chicago. The bride selected a three-piece travelling costume of pale blue wool with navy accessories. Following their return, Mr. and Mrs. Levesque will make their home in Escanaba.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Pete Rabitoy, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Levesque, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Papineau, Mrs. Arthur Chouinard, and Mr. and Mrs. George Kester, all of Chicago.

Sturgeon Bay Shocked By Yachting Tragedy

Sturgeon, Bay, Wis.—Tragedy is not a stranger in this community, but tragedy never struck so spectacularly and with so much effect as on Sunday night when four persons, including Sturgeon Bay's most prominent citizen, gave up their lives to the storm-lashed waters of beautiful Green bay.

With the shock of tragedy was mingled admiration for one of the party of five aboard the racing sloop Half Moon, who was alive after a heroic six-hour effort to reach shore. It was the survival of this young woman that made the story all the more dramatic, because she was able to relate in some detail just what occurred.

Presumed dead, although their bodies had not yet been recovered, are Leathem D. Smith, the shipbuilder; Elton Washburn, 40, and Howard Hunt, 29, officials of Smith's firm; and Miss Mary Loomis, 18, daughter of a well-known Chicago financier.

Frederickson Has Story
Mrs. Smith, wife of the shipbuilder, was under a doctor's care at the family home. "She is holding up pretty good," commented Dr. D. E. Dorchester, who also is attending Patsy at the hospital. Mrs. Smith at first held hope that some miracle might have saved her husband and the others, but today she feared that even the bodies might not be found.

Because of the girl's condition, her physician thought it best not to give newspapermen permission to see her after a writer for one Milwaukee paper talked with her for some time. As a result, many conflicting details were circulated, a number of them utterly ridiculous.

Undoubtedly the most authentic account was provided by Don Frederickson, formerly of Escanaba, Mich., her cousin and nephew of Mrs. Smith. He had a long talk with her Monday afternoon, when she told him everything she could recall.

When the squall struck at about 7 o'clock Sunday night the sloop, a 34-footer with a heavy auxiliary motor, was swamped almost immediately. The persons aboard either jumped off or were washed overboard, the life jackets with them.

Hunt, the youngest of the three men, was able to recover one of the life jackets, and tossed it to the girls. Earlier reports said that he gave them two jackets, but this apparently was incorrect. Patsy, her voice shaking, said that he went down almost immediately. He could swim very little, if at all.

One by One They Went Down
Smith, Washburn and the two girls started for shore, which they could see dimly some five miles away. The Chicago girl was lying on the life jacket, with Patsy Smith pushing.

"The waves were very high and there was thunder and lightning," Patsy related.

Smith and Washburn stayed with the girls for a time—Patsy doesn't know just how long, and then they, too, succumbed to exertion and gave up. Washburn was the next to go. Smith, although the oldest of the group but in good physical health and accustomed to the water, was able to follow a bit longer. Then he went.

"He told me to go on through—that I had to make it," Patsy sobbed.

How much longer she pushed her school friend Patsy can only surmise. She is certain, however, that they had gone a long ways before the Loomis girl said she could not hold on.

"Mary kept talking a lot and swallowed a lot of water," Patsy said. "I told her to keep quiet and save her breath. I clung to the back of the preserver and paddled as best I could, trying to push Mary ahead of me."

"About midnight the wind was getting worse and Mary was talking hysterical. It was right after that I saw the life preserver floating away after I had let go of it for a few moments. She must have slipped out of it."

Throughout all this time Patsy had encouraged her friend to keep on trying—that they would be able to make it. But Mary finally said: "I can't keep going."

Patsy was really terrified by then, but she swam on. "All the time I just prayed so hard. I prayed so hard," she declared.

After swimming about, very tired, Patsy thinks she recovered the life preserver. She saw the light of a cottage ahead, and she kept headed in that direction.

The Smith girl dimly remembers striking the rocks in the shallows near shore. She waded the rest of the distance, struggled up the embankment, and stumbled over something that looked like a stone walk.

"I think I yelled two times, and then I heard a dog barking," she related. She was unconscious when Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hood, who were asleep in their cottage, at Little Harbor, several miles from Sturgeon Bay, found her lying there. They carried her inside and called the authorities and a physician.

Washburn and Hunt have many friends here, and they were mourned no less than Smith. A few remembered meeting the Loomis girl, but she was little known because she had been here for only a few days on a visit.

But Smith's loss was the greatest shock, because he was so prominent and figured so much in the community's activities. He was born here, and had spent much of his life here.

"Leathem never lost faith in Sturgeon Bay," one local businessman declared. "He was our big man, and his shipbuilding industry—the result of his courage and vision—is what put the city on the map during the war."

This same man pointed out that it was his love for the town of his birth that caused Smith to return from Chicago when the war started. The business had dwindled to almost nothing, and by his efforts it mushroomed into a gigantic industry.

"As soon as he saw an opportunity to do something here, he came back."

Speculate On Future

Work continued at the shipyard Monday and today, but the men showed little enthusiasm over it. They needed no prodding to declare that "the boss was a great fellow."

There was speculation as to just what would happen to the company now that its head is gone. The work there has dwindled greatly now that the war is over, although Smith had high hopes of postwar civilian production. He had plans for ship construction, and as a sideline he recently developed the Safe-Way cargo container which was expected to go into production soon.

C. Ray Christianson, the assistant general manager, is temporarily in charge. It probably will be some days before Smith's widow decides what to do with the firm.

It was conceded that Smith made money during the war, but he also was generous with his surplus. He was a liberal donor to the Red Cross, War Chest and other similar agencies. He became interested in the Sturgeon Bay Winter Sports club and gave several thousand dollars for a ski tow, a double track steel toboggan slide and other facilities.

Two Left Behind

Two men, when they learned of the tragedy, pondered the whimsies of fate. One is Frederickson, the nephew, who was scheduled to accompany Smith on Sunday morning as the fleet of boats made the last leg of the race to Menominee. But Frederickson's wife was out of town and he had no one to awaken him in the morning. Consequently, he overslept and the Half Moon left without him.

The other man is "Captain" John Walker, a boyhood friend of Smith and his frequent yachting and hunting companion. Walker, a linotype operator at the Advocate, was invited to go along on the cruise, but he decided at practically the last moment to stay at home this time.

BELFRY FOUND NOT GUILTY

Council Chambers Are Packed For Jury Case Wednesday

Munising—A justice court jury, deliberating 30 minutes, Wednesday afternoon, found Gerald Manning Belfry "not guilty" of assault and battery to the person of Don Cargill. The case stemmed from a fight which started in a local tavern and in which Cargill received a broken nose. Belfry, had pleaded not guilty to the charge by Cargill of assault and battery, made on Tuesday morning in Justice of the Peace John A. Vizona's court.

The jury made a quick decision after the long testimony from both sides at the afternoon court session before Judge John A. Vizona in the city hall council rooms, packed with interested townspeople.

Conflicting testimony as to who struck the first blow probably was the biggest factor making the jurors decision. Belfry had six witnesses and Cargill three, some of both sides, witnesses stating the men raised their fists against each other at the same time in the tavern.

Parole officer Jacques of the Marquette branch prison, was in Munising yesterday on the case of Lawrence Somers who was committed to the Alger county jail after failure of posting $1,000 bond when arraigned Monday on a charge of larceny to the amount of $80 from the person of John Schumaker.

Testimony will be taken to determine whether or not there is a case, Judge Vizona said last evening. Date of the hearing was set at Monday's session of Justice court for July 2.

Warm Weather Is Bringing Out Many Swimmers

Munising—About 200 persons, mostly children, enjoyed swimming at the city park beach on Tuesday afternoon and about 100 braved the cool breezes off the bay Wednesday afternoon and evening to go swimming, it was announced yesterday by Robert Villeneuve, Munising recreation director.

Recreational facilities such as swings and slides will probably be installed at the park site soon, but at present besides the swimming, tennis is the only other sport available at the park.

The baseball schedule is being played off each evening as announced earlier. An archery instructor has not been obtained as yet.

Logging Truck Runs Off Road Tuesday

Munising — A logging truck, driven by Joseph Niedwiczki, ran off the road about two miles from Munising on the M-94 highway to Chatham, about 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. The truck was loaded with logs, which partly spilled over the cab, smashing it in, as the truck lurched into the ditch.

Niedwiczki was driving the truck for Joseph Krause who is contract hauling for Strom and Carlson, lumber jobbers. No one was with him.

The driver was believed not to be hurt although the cab was smashed in and damage to the front end was extensive. Neither the sheriff's department nor city police were called. The truckers took care of removing the logs and truck from the highway within a few hours.

LaKoski's Boat Back In Trolling Service

Munising—Fred LaKoski's boat, Roamer, is back in service and a much better fishing craft than before it burned a month ago, according to friends who helped him ready it the past month, for the tourist season.

Over $800 worth of material and labor was spent in reconditioning the ship. Included in the improvements was enlarging the cockpit to 13 feet, from about six feet and elimination of the pilot house. It is a 34 foot craft.

The Roamer purchased about four years ago from Dr. Hornstein, is used in the sport trolling business out of Munising bay each season.

More than 36,000,000,000 eggs are consumed in the United States in a normal year.

Bubble Baths Used To Keep Men Afloat

Washington—Bubble baths kept Germans dumped into the sea during the war from dying of cold. The same captured device promises to give a new lift to our own air-sea rescue devices.

The bubbles were in the foam created in the middle layer of cloth of a protective suit. A powder something like kitchen baking powder was rubbed by the Germans into the woolly rayon. This powder foamed and kept floating for two to three hours when wet with water. The foamy layer kept the wearer of the suit from losing too much body heat. Herbert F. Schiefer and Richard T. Kropa of the Department of Commerce's technical industrial intelligence branch ferreted the facts out of enemy sources. The foam powder contained sodium bicarbonate, crystals of citric and benzoic acids, a gelatine emulsion and two other chemicals.

Chapin Area Bought From State In 1867 For $11.35

Iron Mountain—You could dig out of your watch pocket today enough small change to cover the amount for which the 115 acres comprising the so-called Chapin property in Iron Mountain was transferred, in 1867, from the state of Michigan to W. H. and G. W. Jenkins, of Menominee. The price was just $11.35, for the unpaid taxes of 1865.

Compare this with your own estimate of the income from the 28,370,813 tons of ore later taken out of the property—and then retire to a quiet corner for a good cry.

Dating from Dec. 15, 1864, the bulky abstract of title recently received by Mr. and Mrs. William D. Cochran and son William J., from the Miami Land Corporation of Chicago, after their purchase of the property, for investment purposes, reveals much interesting history.

Modest Fortune

It begins with the transfer of the area on Sept. 15, 1864, from the United States of America to J. A. Banfield, of Marquette, assignee of George White, private in the war of 1812, as a war bounty, bearing the signature of Abraham Lincoln. Banfield, the record shows, cleared a modest fortune—for that day—in his quick turnover of the property on May 20, 1865, to Henry A. Chapin, of Miles, Mich., for $1,119.

The property became a burden to Mr. Chapin, who defaulted on the 1865 taxes, making possible the fabulous transaction whereby William Humphrey, then auditor general of Michigan, on Oct. 7, 1867, turned the area over to W. H. and G. W. Jenkins, of Menominee, for the dazzling figure of $11.35.

Nothing more of record appears until June 24, 1871, when the entry shows conveyance of a quit-claim deed from William and Elizabeth Jenkins, husband and wife, then of Waukegan, Ill., to William H. Jenkins, of Menominee, as "the heir of George W. Jenkins, late of Menominee county." The latter, it appears, held the best-quest briefly and lightly, for on Oct. 7, 1873, he signed a quit-claim deed to Joseph Flesheim, of Menominee, for $100.

Start of Mining

In 1879 the name of Chapin again appears in the abstract, with Henry A. Chapin, of Miles, as the assignor, although there are no prior entries to show how ownership passed from Flesheim to Chapin. On April 18, 1879, the entry reads: "Henry A. Chapin, of Miles, Mich., to Menominee Mining Company, a corporation organized under the laws of the state of Wisconsin." In this arrangement, Chapin leased the land to the Menominee company for ten years, from Aug. 1, 1880, "for the purpose of mining and removing iron ore."

It was agreed that the Menominee company would pay Mr. Chapin 45 cents a ton up to 10,000 tons and 45 cents for all ore mined in excess of this figure, the Company paying all of the taxes.

On Dec. 12, 1879, Mr. and Mrs. Chapin conveyed to the Menominee River Railroad company a strip of land, 100 feet wide, across part of the area, for a consideration of $1, and subject to the lease granted by Henry Chapin to the Menominee company.

Value Rises Sharply

Enhanced by the start of mining operations, valuation of the property was sharply increased, and on Feb. 25, 1881, Mr. Chapin extended the Menominee company's lease by 10 years to Aug. 1, 1890, on the same terms as the prior lease and for an added consideration of $10,000. Another entry, on Nov. 1, 1886, shows issuance of a quit-claim deed from Mr. and Mrs. Chapin and the Menominee Mining Company to the Republic Branch Railroad Company, for certain right-of-way within the area.

The Chapin Mining Company entered the picture on Dec. 1, 1886, when a deed was issued to it, for $1, by the Menominee Mining Company. Thereafter the abstract moves laboriously through a long succession of entries to its eventual transfer to the Miami Land Corporation and recent purchase, from them, by the Cochran interests.

The first shipment of ore from the Chapin mine, some 34,000 tons, was made in 1880, according to a history of the property compiled some years ago by George J. Eisele, superintendent here for the Oliver Iron Mining company. In this year, also, the North Western Railroad line was extended from Quinnesec to Iron Mountain.

Development of the Chapin was pushed and in 1890 shipments of 727,421 tons were made, nearly one-twelfth of the aggregate from the upper lakes region in that year. The Chapin later became famous as the largest underground producing iron ore mine then in existence. Producing a high-grade ore, the output was quickly absorbed by the lower-lake furnaces. In 1890 the Chapin mine—the largest of three properties which later comprised the activity—employed 2,400 men on surface and underground.

"Payroll City of North"

In later years the Hamilton and Ludington shafts were added to the Chapin group and these, with others in the community—Pewabic and Millie, principally—added some 1,500 men to the payroll, or 4,000 then employed in and about the mines of the city. Iron Mountain then was known as "The payroll city of the north."

The Ludington and Hamilton mines, lying west and north of the Chapin, were both drowned out by heavy flow of water encountered, in 1891, in the Hamilton No. 2 shaft.

In June, 1901, the U. S. Steel Corporation acquired the property, and, with the Oliver Iron Mining company as the operating group, the Chapin was continuously active until July 27, 1932. Its closing was an epochal event in the city's history, and it was many years before residents of the community became finally reconciled that the Chapin mine was gone—for all time.

DENOUNCE HOOK
FORESTRY BILLSupervisors Look Upon Measure As Dangerous

Opposition to H. R. 6221, covering forest practices, which is now before congress, was voiced in a resolution passed Tuesday afternoon by the Schoolcraft county board of supervisors near the close of their two day session.

The measure, which is being sponsored in congress by Congressman Frank Hook, would require a permit on the part of anyone to cut timber of any sort.

The measure was objected to by the supervisors on the ground that the provisions of the law, if enforced, would deprive owners of timbered lands—small as well as large—of the free use of their property.

The board resolution was passed unanimously.

WANT GARDEN
AVE. EXTENDEDCity Council Ponders
Over Problems Move
Would Involve

A home building program, involving the construction of residence property aggregating more than $50,000 in value is dependent on the extension of Garden avenue westward toward Lakeshore drive, members of the city council were informed at their last regular meeting.

Walter Linderoth, Ray Prine and Herbert Peterson appeared before the council as interested parties, Linderoth and Prine stating that they wished to construct residences there if the city could give assurance that the lots involved could be sewered, water connections provided and the street laid out at a cost to property owners at a satisfactory figure.

That area, while very satisfactory as to location, has long presented a serious problem because of the rock formation which comes close to the surface making the digging of trenches for sewers or water mains difficult and expensive.

An added difficulty, the property owners were told, lay in the fact that connection to the sewer main in that area would be inadvisable because the sewer was at present all but overtaxed.

A survey of the property will shortly be made by engineers in the employ of the city and an estimate as to the probable cost of the improvements will be made and submitted to the owners.

Prine stated that he plans to construct a house of at least $18,000 value and Linderoth plans to put up four modern residences on that site. The latter states that he does not intend to excavate for a basement but has plans that provide ground floor utility room and heating plant space.

Find Coffey Guilty
Of Insobriety

Vern Coffey, arrested by a city police officer on June 21 and charged with drunkenness, insisted on a trial by jury when arraigned before Judge W. G. Stephens the following day. Tried in justice court Tuesday afternoon, he pleaded his own case, but failed to convince the jury that the charge was not a true one. Convicted, he was ordered to pay a $10 fine and $5 costs or spend ten days in jail. He paid the fine.

On the jury drawn to hear his case were A. F. Hall, Peter Babla-delis, Gust Larson, Ira Crawford, Carlton Siddall and August Olson. Charged with violation of a city ordinance, Coffey's case was prosecuted by G. S. Johnson.

No Nylon Lines
Down In Mexico

Nogales, Sonora, Mex. (AP)—Mexico is a land of plenty—if you have plenty of money.

T-bone steaks, nylons, liquor, butter and sugar are abundant.

In fact, there isn't a shortage of much of anything in this city of 25,000, just across the international border from Arizona.

Beef is piled high in market show cases or on blocks. But it doesn't look too tempting with flies swarming in the warm afternoon sun.

Stores advertise nylons by size, gauge and make. There are no lines. The price is about $2.95 a pair.

Markets are loaded with sugar. It isn't as highly refined as the American product, but just as sweet. An American visitor can take five pounds back across the border without worrying about a ration stamp.

Camera film is advertised by most merchants, and almost every size is on hand, but the cost is about double that in the states.

Mexican uncials roam the streets selling popular brands of American cigarettes at a quarter a package.

An American can bring $100 worth of Mexican goods into the U. S. duty free.

There is a steady two-way procession across the border these days. Americans are stocking up on scarce items. Mexicans buy armloads of groceries in Nogales, Ariz. stores.

BUS ORDINANCE
GIVEN READINGRegulations Governing
Grant Of Franchise
Are Prescribed

Manistique's prospects for a bus line came one step nearer of realization at Monday night's meeting of the city council when first reading was given a proposed ordinance permitting the granting of a franchise for such a utility and setting forth requirements and restrictions governing it.

Among the chief provisions are the stipulations that any person or company in order to receive a franchise must agree to maintain a schedule, give notice of amount of the fares to be charged, announce the bus line itinerary, maintain liability insurance and give assurance that the drivers are qualified, competent and at least 18 years of age.

No discussion of applicants for franchise was made at the council meeting and no commitments were made as to who might receive the franchise.

Laurion Brothers, Gilbert and Clement, it is understood, have already made deals for three buses which formerly operated in the cities of Marinette, Wis., and Menominee. They plan to operate a line about four miles in length at intervals of one-half hours. The route is planned so as to make it convenient for use by people residing in the thickly populated areas to make good connections with operation schedules of the city's various industrial plants. They also will plan their schedules to meet the needs of children on the West Side who attend high school and St. Francis de Sales parochial school. These plans, the brothers state, are tentative and they are therefore withholding definite announcement of their plans.

BOSTON GRABS NIGHTCAP, 9-3

Bunch Of 15 Runs In 2 Innings Gives Detroit Opener, 16 And 2

Detroit, June 26 (AP)—The scoring came in big bunches here today as the Detroit Tigers chased across 15 runs in the first two innings to hand the Boston Red Sox their worst defeat of the season, 16 to 2, in the first half of a twin bill and Boston came roaring back with a seven-run eighth inning to grab the nightcap 9 to 3 and gain an even split.

Ted Williams and Hank Greenberg, running a neck and neck race for the home run leadership, each belted a homer in each game to remain deadlocked at 19 each.

Detroit scored seven runs off three Boston pitchers in the opening inning of the first game and powered across eight more runs in the second as Greenberg and Hal Newhouse knocked in five with a home run each.

Thrills For Crowd
A crowd of 41,062 cash customers had plenty to cheer about at the outset of the long afternoon. Eddie Lake doubled, Jim Outlaw singled and Hot Evers also singled before Starting Pitcher Joe Dobson got Hank Greenberg on a pop fly for the first out of the opening inning.

Pat Mullin was hit on the right elbow by a pitched ball to fill the bases and retired from the game with what Tiger Trainer Jack Hodel called a "bad bruise."

Roy Cullenbine, filling in for Dick Wakefield who was benched because of his batting slump, worked Dobson for a pass and Dobson gave way to Bob Klinger. Jimmy Bloodworth's grounder went through Pinky Higgins' legs for an error and two more runs scored. Birdie Tebbetts drove a triple to deep center for two more and scored when Newhouse's double leaved Klinger.

Bill Butland got the side out but the Tigers went on a rampage again in the second with eight runs on Evers' single, Greenberg's homer, Moore's walk, Cullenbine's single, Higgins' second error, Newhouse's homer, a walk to Lake and singles by Outlaw and Greenberg.

Jim Bagby pitched the rest of the way for Boston as Cronin threw in his shock troops to rest his regulars. Partee, only Boston player to stay the full distance, fanned three times as Newhouse ran his season strikeout total to 116.

Murder In Eighth
Outlaw's double and Evers' single gave Detroit a run in the first inning of the nightcap and the Tigers scored again in the second on Bloodworth's two-bagger and Bob Swift's single. Greenberg's homer made it 3-0 in the third and it seemed the Tigers were enroute to their first sweep of a twin bill this year.

The Red Sox weren't ready to quit, however, and picked up a run in the fourth on Williams' home run and another in the sixth on two hits, an infield out and an outfield fly.

Still trailing by a run, Boston turned on the murder in the eighth.

Williams singled to right, Doerr singled to left and Dom Di Maggio walked to fill the bases with nobody out. Trucks threw two wide ones to Higgins and was yanked in favor of George Caster, who walked Pinky, forcing across the run that tied the score.

Ex-Tiger Rudy York, with only one previous hit in seven games here this year, singled to center for two more runs.

Caster got the next two men but Metkovich walked and Pesky, Williams and Doerr singled successively to turn it into a rout. The even break ended Detroit's current home stand at six victories, five defeats and a tie. The Tigers have an exhibition game in Grand Rapids tomorrow before opening a three-game series Friday in St. Louis.

Tami Mauriello Booked As Next Opponent For Champion

Buffalo, N. Y., June 26 (AP)—Heavyweight champion Joe Louis said tonight in an interview during his first public appearance since his title bout with Billy Conn, that he "probably will fight in September and the match probably will be with Tami Mauriello."

Louis, here as a guest of the Hudson Boxing Club for a Dave Mason benefit card, said he would attend another meeting with promoter Mike Jacobs in New York Friday at 11 a. m. when definite arrangements might be made. Louis met with Jacobs earlier today and discussed a possible bout, but neither Mauriello or his manager, Lefty Remini, could be located.

The Champion projects a summer of rest in which he will divide his time between golf and travel, and perhaps the making of a moving picture. Three moving picture companies are bidding for his services, he declared.

Louis said he would play in golf tournaments during the next 10 weeks in Chicago, Detroit, Cleveland, Toledo and Philadelphia. He still had his right thumb in splints and said it would be a week before he could play in competition.

Babe And Patty Win Their Tests In Western Open

BY JERRY LISKA

Des Moines, June 26 (AP)—The two ranking favorites, defending champion Babe Didrikson Zaharias and persistent Patty Berg, today handled the easiest and toughest tests respectively as eight survivors bounced into the quarter-final round of the women's western open golf tournament at the Wakonda Club.

While the Babe, representing Denver, Colo., was matching masculine par in routing 18-year-old Jean Hutto of Kansas City, 6 and 5, Minneapolis' Miss Berg had to come off the ropes again and again to whip Betty Hicks of Chicago, 1 up on the 18th.

First, Zaharias zoomed over the first nine in 36, one under men's par and three under female standard 39. Miss Hutto, hopelessly outdistanced by Babe's whistling tee shots, failed to take a single hole.

Mrs. Zaharias went over men's figures only once and that was on the deciding 13th hole where she was twice stymied and took a one-over-par six. Babe had 54 strokes for the 13 holes played.

The width of a man's thumb was the Roman standard for an inch.

The Sports Parade

By Ken Gunderman

Perhaps the least understood rule, or more aptly, the most misunderstood rule in baseball and softball is the infield fly rule. The purpose of this rule is to prevent a cheap double play. The rule provides that if, before two are out, while first and second, or first, second and third bases are occupied, the batsman is automatically out if he hits an infield fly, other than a line drive or a bunted fly ball. The base runners may advance at their own risk, but they are not required to advance. This prevents the infielder from creating a force play by deliberately dropping the ball. With only one runner on base, however, the rule does not apply and the batsman himself can prevent a double play by running out the infield fly.

The purpose of the rule is the same for both baseball and softball, but the wording of the rule differs in the two rules books. The baseball code specifies that the batsman is out if the fly ball can reasonably be caught by an infielder. Thus the fly ball can be some distance back of the infield. In the softball code, however, the rule specifically provides that the fly ball must be within or near the baselines.

A crowd of 7,000—yes, that's right—seven thousand—attended the Swedes-Cousinjak annual softball game at Iron Mountain the other night. The attendance was undoubtedly the largest that has ever witnessed a softball game in the Upper Peninsula. . . . The "take" at the game was $306.54 which is a nice piece of change for a softball game, but it was disappointing in view of the large crowd and the fact that the proceeds were earmarked for civic improvement. It was less than half cent a head.

Receipts at local softball games have perked up considerably since the installation of the fence and the change from freewill collection to direct charge at the lighted field. The guys who always forgot their purse are chipping in now. Moreover, it simplifies the collections as ticket sellers catch them all at the gate now instead of going begging around the field after the game is under way. It restores a sense of dignity to the sport.

Hit and Miss—The U. P. Golden Gloves boxing tournament in 1947 may be held late in January at Escanaba, but it is probable that several sub-zone tournaments will be conducted prior to the finals . . . at various points in the Upper Peninsula. . . . Winners will qualify for the Escanaba competition. . . . The Escanaba beach is getting a good play with general satisfaction that the setup is better than previous years.

Ten Pounder New Walleyed Leader In Fish Contest

All this talk about the unusually good walleyed pike fishing at the mouth of the Ford River has had fishermen who favor the head of Little Bay de Noc as traditionally the finest walleye fishing grounds more than a little worried. Now, however, their favorite fishing hole has vindicated itself. It has produced a ten pounder to head the walleye class in the Daily Press fishing contest.

J. O. Moberg, one of the upper bay's most rabid partisans, caught the big fellow on a Tuesday evening while trolling a Junebug and worms in the waters he knows so well. Weighing an even ten pounds, it bettered the best from the Ford River to date by a full ounce. A beautifully streamlined fish, it measured 29 1/2 inches in length and 16 inches in girth.

The lengthy battle the fish put up was witnessed by Mrs. Moberg and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Koenig of 6552 S. Rockwell St., Chicago. Mrs. Koenig, the only other successful angler in the quartet, landed a 3 1/2 pound northern. The fish drew many admiring comments when displayed at Rapid River Wednesday morning and throughout the day as it reposed in the Moberg bathtub at 810 Ludington street.

That the last word hasn't been heard from the Ford River is indicated by the entry of a 3 1/2 pound large mouth black bass, caught out there on the opening day by Al Houle, 425 S. 16th street. Houle's fish measured 17 1/2 inches in length and was 5-3/4 inches deep. It also couldn't resist the offering of spinner and worms.

COOPER KEEPS HITS SCATTERED

Braves Vet Outlasts 4 Chicago Pitchers In Series Finale

Boston, June 26 (AP)—Keeping 12 hits, including a pair of two-baggers, well scattered, the veteran Mort Cooper outlasted four Chicago pitchers today while hurling the Boston Braves to an 11-2 victory for the odd game of their three-game series.

The Cubs scored their pair of tallies in the fourth inning, before the Tribesmen were able to give Cooper a run.

Billy Herman led the Braves' 15-hit attack by collecting three singles and Phil Masi connected for a triple.

STREAK SNAPPED
Philadelphia, June 26 (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals snapped a five game winning streak of the Philadelphia Phillies today, winning 4 to 1.

The loss, witnessed by a Ladies' Day crowd of 25,616—including 15,624 paid—was the seventh in the Phils' last 25 games. It kept them from climbing to the top of the National league second division as the league-leading Brooklyn Dodgers defeated the fifth place Cincinnati Reds, 4 to 2.

Ervin Dusak sewed up the game in the fourth inning with a home run, scoring Stan Musial ahead of him.

St. Louis 000 200 020—4 6 1
Philadelphia 000 100 000—1 6 1

OUT OF CELLAR
New York, June 26 (AP)—The New York Giants again exchanged places with Pittsburgh today, the Polo Grounders vacating the National league cellar for seventh place when they defeated the Pirates, 4-0.

Giant Jack Graham cracked his fourth home run into the upper right field stands in the second and Bobby Blatner slammed his ninth circuit smash in the seventh.

Score by innings:
Pittsburgh 000 000 000—0 5 1
New York 011 000 11x—4 7 1

DODGERS KEEP PACE
Brooklyn, June 26 (AP)—The league leading Brooklyn Dodgers maintained their three game National league margin over the St. Louis Cardinals today by defeating the Cincinnati Reds, 4-2, while the Red Birds downed the Philadelphia Phillies.

Dixie Walker accounted for all of the Dodgers' runs with two triples and a single.

The Reds began the scoring in the second when Ray Mueller hit his third homer in two days with none on off Rex Barney.

Score by innings:
Cincinnati 010 010 000—2 6 0
Brooklyn 001 001 21x—4 13 1

Cubs Trim Bears In Practice Game, 7-3

The Escanaba Cubs upset the Bears in a seven inning practice game at the city diamond last night, 7 to 3.

After the third inning when the Cubs scored four runs on Kuchenberg's double, the first solid blow of the game, the contest turned into a horseplay proposition.

John Schwalbach Jr., Bears' right fielder, took the first three inning pitching stretch for the Bears and he was followed on the mound by Gus Maycunich and Art Gardner. The Cubs used Bill Thon for three frames and followed with Joe Rademacher and Mickey Kuchenberg for two innings each.

The Bears used a makeshift lineup after the third frame.

Score by innings:
Bears 000 020 1—3
Cubs 004 012 x—7

Americans Continue Walk At Wimbledon

Wimbledon, Eng., June 26 (AP)—His blistered racket hand protected by a grey cloth glove, Jack Kramer of Los Angeles walloped E. R. Avery, 6-1, 6-1, 6-0 today, continuing the withering American advance through the third day of the Wimbledon tennis championships while the vaunted Australian title bid lost some of its steam.

The Wimbledon championships, being played for the first time since 1939, advanced rapidly with all seeded players making good.

Meanwhile, the seeded American misses moved into the third round of the women's singles in step, each winning in straight sets. No. 3 seeded Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif., trimmed Mrs. M. Landry of France, 6-2, 6-1.

able to tell growers whether shirts of mechanically harvested cotton becomes threadbare sooner than those of hand picked cotton, and to find how much money per bale could be gained by installing a process of cleaning cotton picked by mechanical harvesters.

Tests To Tell Who Wears Out Shirts
Cleveland—Does a band leader wear out his shirts sooner than a college professor? Are tall, skinny men easier on their shirts than short, fat ones, and are laundries harder on shirts than the men wearing them?

To get the scientific answer to such questions, more than 40 fortunate members of the staff of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station soon will be presented with eight new cotton shirts each. Miss Mary Anna Grimes, of the Texas station, told the textile and clothing division of the American Home Economics Association here today.

The shirts are being chosen to represent all important grades of cotton fibers, cotton from different sections of Texas, and different varieties of seeds. The results of the test are expected to provide data of great importance to cotton growers as well as to consumers.

The experimenters hope to be

Members of the Women's Catholic Order of Foresters from Gladstone and Escanaba attended the services in a body. Also attending as a group was the custodian staff of the Escanaba City schools.
